New Clash Flares Over Asia Policies

Administration, GOP Hurl Fresh Attacks On Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a political battlefront ranging from Capitol Hill to the Pentagon the Johnson administration clashed anew with Republicans over its Southeast Asian and defense policies.

The fresh outbreak of sharp skirmishing reinforced belief the presidential campaign, still not officially under way, may turn into a long, hot autumn.

The Defense Department and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield led the administration counterattack Thursday. And GOP congressional leaders accused the government of pursuing a "no win" policy in south Viet Nam in an effort to postpone tough decisions until after the election.

The Pentagon issued a long statement challenging in detail data and statements of GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater on future U.S. nuclear capability.

On Wednesday, Goldwater repeated and elaborated on his previous charge that if present defense policies continue American "deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut by 90 per cent" in the 1970s.

"It is false and, if the senator would trouble to inform himself, he would learn that it is false," the Pentagon retorted in its statement, which it said was issued after consultation with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Goldwater has argued that the administration is phasing out manned bombers in favor of missiles, which Goldwater said carry much lighter nuclear loads than bombers.

The Pentagon denied as "wholly unjustified" that manned bombers are to phased out.

GOP leaders in the Senate and House, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck, followed up the Goldwater blasts at the administration with one of their own.

Their statement, read at a news conference, contended "there has been no satisfactory explanation" why the President announced the U.S. naval air strikes at the North Vietnamese PT boat fleet before the attack was under way. Two U.S. planes were shot down.

Both Dirksen and Halleck said the South Viet Nam war "continues to go from bad to worse" and is beginning "to resemble the incredible 'no-win' war fought in Korea more than a decade ago."

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mansfield was getting in some whacks of his own. He accused Goldwater of making "gross distortions" about the nation's nuclear capacity and of an "offhand interpretation" of administration orders to the 7th Fleet during the Gulf of Tonkin crisis.

Hoffa Given Support By Union Council

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Teamsters Union executive council says it will stick by President James R. Hoffa while he appeals two convictions on federal charges.

A statement issued by he council Thursday after a closed session said Hoffa was innocent until he has exhausted his legal rights and that the union would do nothing to deprive him of these rights.

The statement did not say what would happen if the convictions are upheld.

Hoffa said the statement was "very gratifying to me. It is positive, living proof of no dissension in this union."

Harold Gibbons, who resigned last December as a top personal aide to Hoffa but remained as a union vice president, read the statement to newsmen. He said he saw no significance in the omission of any declaration of confidence.

The meeting was the first for the council since Hoffa was convicted of attempted jury tampering in Chattanooga, Tenn., and of conspiracy to defraud the

Students Demand Khanh Step Aside

4 U.S. Advisors Killed By Viet Reds In Ambush

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Students in Saigon and other Vietnamese cities staged noisy anti - government rallies today and demanded that President Nguyen Khanh step aside in favor of a civilian government.

The rallies came on the heels of the death of four American military advisors and heavy Vietnamese losses in a Communist ambush south of Saigon.

In Saigon today, Buddhist student leader Ton That Tue told 500 yelling students that Khanh's "dictatorship is even worse than the Ngo Dinh Diem dictatorship, and we must fight harder than ever."

The group marched to Khanh's office building shouting anti - government slogans and waving banners reading "Dictatorship digs a grave for itself."

Informed sources said a delegation of students went to see him there also.

Rallies against Khanh's regime were also staged in Hue, Tuy Hoa, Can Tho and other towns. The demonstrations—illegal under Viet Nam's state-of-emergency decree — were not stopped, but police and troops kept watch.

The student demands included freedom of the press, abrogation of the national charter promulgated by Khanh last Sunday, an end of alleged repression of Buddhists, and replacement of the military government by civilians.

Student leaders said they

3 Americans' Fate Still Unknown

Reinforced Congo Troops Battle Red-Backed Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The hard-pressed Congo army, reinforced with troops and supplies, battled today against Communist-backed rebels threatening Bukavu, last key northeastern city in government hands.

The fighting 1,000 miles east of this capital went on as the fate of three Americans reported missing in Bukavu remained unknown.

In Washington, the U.S. role in the Congo was apparently due for high-level review. G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, arrived home Thursday night to report on his talks here with Premier Moise Tshombe.

Reports on the battle of Bukavu were sketchy.

U.S. Air Force transport planes ferried reinforcements Thursday to the Congo army garrison of 800 men, who were last reported losing ground in the besieged city. Radio messages said the rebels had pushed back Col. Leonard Mulamba's troops into Bukavu's European sector.

A message to the U.N. said the missing Americans may have been captured. But there was no official word.

They are Vice Consul Lewis R. Macfarlane, 25, Seattle, Wash., and two Army officers attached to the U.S. military mission in the Congo, Col. William A. Dodds, 50, and Lt. Col. Donald V. Rattan, 40, Alexandria, Va.

Williams' trip to the Congo, his 10th, coincided with an increase in U.S. aid to the shaky central government. More than 100 U.S. trops and four cargo planes arrived last week.

U.S. officials said the men and aircraft would be used only in rescue and support missions against the rebels. The new support, however, roused criticism. One U.S. senator charged the United States might be moving toward another Viet Nam.

Seek To Avoid Rights Fight

Drafters Of Democratic Platform Wrestle Words

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democratic platform writers trying to avoid a party-rending fight over civil rights wrestled with a problem of wording today.

How far could a Democratic national platform go in trusting state and local officials to carry out the federal civil rights law?

The problem of wording was before the platform committee which moved its operations Thursday to Atlantic City, where the Democratic National Convention opens Monday.

Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia roused the committee to applauding enthusiasm Thursday with a plea for a civil rights plank pledging the party to support "the law of the land."

But Sanders, who personally opposed the public accommodations section of the law, also said the spirit of the law should be carried out "through local people in their own local communities, and not through fear of federal force or federal intimidation."

Later, Sanders told newsmen his idea of the proper civil rights plank is "a moderate expression that we are going to implement the law which is on the books with reason and responsibility and that we are not going to use it as a club."

Platform committee members from outside the South praised the tone of Sanders' speech as a contribution to the creation of an atmosphere in which Democrats might be able to fashion a mutually agreeable civil rights plank.

But there were doubts that the formula Sanders suggested could survive debate in the committee.

The only Negro member of the committee, Rep. William L. Dawson of Illinois, sought out Sanders after his speech to shake his hand.

"With this kind of leadership in the South, there can be a new day and a new deal," Dawson told a reporter.

Another committee member, Rep. Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin, said he is certain members of the party's liberal wing would want more recognition of the federal role in civil rights enforcement than Sanders indicated.

Sanders conferred with Southern members of the committee who have been trying to work out compromise language, and told newsmen he expects to discuss the matter further with President Johnson at a White House meeting of Southern governors this weekend. However, governors of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama have indicated they will not attend the meeting.

Kennedy Has Timetable In Senate Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has a timetable all set in his fight for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate from New York, informed sources said today.

The sources said it awaits only an expected endorsement of Kennedy by Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, the state's top Democrat.

Kennedy's timetable, the sources said, would delay his resignation as attorney general until Sept. 1, date of the New York Democratic convention which will nominate the candidate to oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

The attorney general would first resign as a Massachusetts delegate to the Democratic National Convention, which opens Monday in Atlantic City, N.J. He would be replaced by the wife of his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Kennedy, in his new role as a New Yorker, would attend only the last day of the national convention, in time for a program in honor of his late brother, President John F. Kennedy, and a quiet party in memory of Kennedy's successful drive for the presidential nomination four years ago.

Shaky Truce Threatened On Cyprus

New Battle Erupts; Turkish Planes Are Reported Over Isle

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Renewed fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, and a government charge that Turkish planes flew over Cyprus, threatened today to shatter the shaky truce on this Mediterranean island.

No casualties were reported in the fighting Thursday near Ktima in southwest Cyprus. Shooting between the communal factions lasted about an hour, a U.N. spokesman said.

Turkish reconnaissance flights were reported in the Kokkina- Mansoura area where two weeks ago Greek Cypriot advances on Turkish positions triggered retaliatory air strikes by Turkey.

A U.N.-sponsored cease-fire has been in effect since the Turkish assaults.

Turkey had agreed to suspend its reconnaissance missions but warned that new attacks by Greek Cypriots would lead to their resumption. If the flights over the northwest coast were made by Turkish airplanes, as the Greek Cypriot government charges, they would be the first in 10 days.

The sudden visit here of Greek Defense Minister Petros Garoufalias roused speculation. He said Thursday night after arriving from Athens that he would speak with President Makarios and inspect Greece's 950-man army contingent, based on the island under the 1960 treaty which granted independence to Cyprus.

There were rumors, however, that Garoufalias had come to persuade Makarios to reject an offer of Soviet military aid, pledged in case of a Turkish attack. A Greek Cypriot delegation was expected to depart soon for Moscow for talks on the subject.

STRIKE PLANS DISCLOSED. United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther told a news conference in Detroit Thursday that nearly 600,000 UAW members "are enthusiastic to strike if we don't get justice." 'Big Three' Likely To Be No. 1 Target

UAW President Say If Offers Persist There'll Be Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Notice has been served on the nation's auto industry that a strike will be scheduled next week against General Motors, Ford or Chrysler if negotiations for a new labor contract remain stalemated.

United Auto Workers Union officials decided Thursday in Chicago to defer until next Wednesday at a special 8 p.m. meeting in Detroit the question of whether to authorize a strike at one of the automotive industry's Big Three.

"If the companies persist in their present offers, there will be a strike," said UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther was referring to virtually-identical economic package proposals made last Monday by the auto companies.

The offer provided for higher wages, earlier retirement and larger pensions for more than half a million UAW members at automotive plants around the nation. They were promptly branded "miserably inadequate" by union leaders.

Spokesmen for the three auto companies had no comment on the union's action in postponing its selection of a strike target until next week.

When the economic proposal was made, Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, termed it the "most generous we've ever made to the UAW."

Reuther said next Wednesday's meeting in Detroit would review the status of negotiations at that time and receive reports on strike votes now being taken.

Then, if necessary, the board will select a strike target. In 1961, the target was GM. In 1955 and 1958, it was Ford.

"We do not want a strike, and we shall continue to make every good faith effort at the bargaining table to avoid a strike," said the union's international executive board.

In their package proposals, the Big Three offered pay increases ranging from 18 to 36 cents an hour over a three- year period and a boost in pension payments from $2.80 a month for each year of service to $3.25.

They also proposed making 60 years the normal retirement age rather than 65.

Could Bring Higher Food Prices

Drought Conditions Pose Threat To Crops, Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spreading and deepening drought conditions are raising serious threats to crop production and farm income in many parts of the country. Higher prices of some foods could result.

Without doubt, volume will fall considerably below the Agriculture Department's Aug. 1 forecast that crop production will be less than 1 per cent below last year's record high.

Vital pasture for livestock is being damaged. So are such crops as corn, sorghum grain, soybeans, cotton and sugar beets.

There is no likelihood, however, that production will be reduced enough to create any national shortage.

The department is speeding emergency aid to many farmers. It already has granted farmers in 617 counties in 26 states permission to graze and cut what little hay there is on land that had been retired from production under government payment programs.

Department officials are concerned that if the dry weather continues much longer in areas where cattle are dependent on grass there could be a heavy liquidation of herds, with a consequent tumble in cattle and other livestock prices and possible overcrowding of marketing and processing facilities.

When the economic proposal was made, Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, termed it the "most generous we've ever made to the UAW."

Reuther said next Wednesday's meeting in Detroit would review the status of negotiations at that time and receive reports on strike votes now being taken.

Then, if necessary, the board will select a strike target. In 1961, the target was GM. In 1955 and 1958, it was Ford.

"We do not want a strike, and we shall continue to make every good faith effort at the bargaining table to avoid a strike," said the union's international executive board.

In their package proposals, the Big Three offered pay increases ranging from 18 to 36 cents an hour over a three- year period and a boost in pension payments from $2.80 a month for each year of service to $3.25.

They also proposed making 60 years the normal retirement age rather than 65.

Could Bring Higher Food Prices

Drought Conditions Pose Threat To Crops, Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spreading and deepening drought conditions are raising serious threats to crop production and farm income in many parts of the country. Higher prices of some foods could result.

Without doubt, volume will fall considerably below the Agriculture Department's Aug. 1 forecast that crop production will be less than 1 per cent below last year's record high.

Vital pasture for livestock is being damaged. So are such crops as corn, sorghum grain, soybeans, cotton and sugar beets.

There is no likelihood, however, that production will be reduced enough to create any national shortage.

The department is speeding emergency aid to many farmers. It already has granted farmers in 617 counties in 26 states permission to graze and cut what little hay there is on land that had been retired from production under government payment programs.

Department officials are concerned that if the dry weather continues much longer in areas where cattle are dependent on grass there could be a heavy liquidation of herds, with a consequent tumble in cattle and other livestock prices and possible overcrowding of marketing and processing facilities.

U.S. Preparing To Send Spacecraft Toward Mars

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is preparing to send two Mariner spacecraft toward Mars next November or December.

If successful, the 570-pound spacecraft would pass within 10,000 miles of Mars next July or a few weeks thereafter — and send back 150 million miles to earth the first television pictures from such a vast distance.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes the films and other data will determine whether the planet harbors any forms of life.

In addition, it was learned Thursday, the tentative plans call for abolition of taxes on local telephone service and reduction or elimination of some taxes which one government official described as "increasing the cost of doing business."

The estimated reduction in revenue would run $2 billion to $3 billion. Excise taxes, most of which amount to a federal sales tax, bring in $14.5 billion a year.

The extent of the reductions would depend on how well the economy is performing the next year and how much revenue is being produced.

Phone Calls From Satellite Buffs Have Woman In Orbit

She has no tracking data.

What she does have — besides a jangling telephone and jangled nerves — is the same telephone number as one for a dial-a-satellite service at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

And if you dial the Washington number in New York City without first dialing the Washington area code, you get the Schlosser residence.

The first of some 300 telephone calls came Tuesday night.

"Starting from 8:30 people began calling to ask about space," Mrs. Schlosser said Thursday. "When I explained that this is Brooklyn, they became able language."

The calls apparently were prompted by newspaper stories here that told of the dial-a-satellite service and gave the Washington telephone number.

The calls continued to pour into the Schlosser home at all hours Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Schlosser said the New York Telephone Co. suggested she take the receiver off the hook.

"But I can't do that," she said. "I might be getting some calls from my sister-in-law or somebody else in the family, or my husband might get some business calls."

Red Influence Growing In French Congo

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red Chinese influence is growing in the former French Congo. Peking agents seem intent on transforming it into a base for revolution in central and west Africa.

Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic, provides headquarters for what seems to be a mastermind committee of the rebellion in the other Congo, to the east, against the Leopoldville government.

Red China may see bright prospects for the spread of revolutionary violence from seeds planted in the two Congos. Portuguese Angola to the south is a prime target.

Rebels holding a large chunk of the eastern area of Leopoldville Congo, including the city of Stanleyville, refer to their forces as "The People's Liberation Army." The Red Chinese apply the same name to their army.

Evidently, the anti-Leopoldville uprising gets significant help from Brazzaville, an important transport hub for all central Africa. It is headquarters for an organization called the National Council for Liberation of the Congo. This group issues communiques on the progress of rebellion in the neighboring Congo, and describes itself as devoted to "Lumumbism." Patrice Lumumba, a pro-Communist premier of Leopoldville, was murdered in 1961.

Premier Moise Tshombe in Leopoldville complained this week of "interference from certain foreign countries in the service of Communist China, such as Brazzaville Congo and Burundi." Burundi is to the east of Leopoldville Congo.

The officer, in a report to Chief Americo Radeschi, said the woman did not mention the shooting until he arrived at the home.

Patrolman Burson said he found the back door open and entered looking for the husband after the wife said he had shot at her. Unable to locate the man, the officer said he and the wife went upstairs and found two young daughters in bed.

There was a shotgun hole in the wall of each bedroom, the officers reported.

The woman told Patrolman Burson her husband arrived home about 5 a.m. after working the 3-11 shift at the mill and began quarreling with her.

He got a .22-caliber automatic and fired one shot but missed and the wife wrestled the gun away from him.

She said he had been drinking.

The husband then grabbed a 16-gauge shotgun and fired once but missed as the wife threw herself to the bedroom floor.

She ran into the other bedroom where he fired and missed again. When the shotgun jammed, he struck her with it as she fled from the house, the officer was told.

She ran out of the home about 5:40 a. m. and notified police at 6:17 a. m., the officer said.

After learning the circumstances, Patrolman Burson notified Lt. Clyde W. Boso who went to the home to join in the investigation. The woman and her children then were brought to police headquarters where she remained until court opened at 9 a. m. and she could file the affidavit.

Glenmoor Firemen To List New Householders Of Area

The Glenmoor Firemen's Association mapped plans to open a campaign to register addresses of new families in their fire area to speed emergency calls at a meeting Thursday night in the fire hall, with 28 present.

George Hamilton, president, explained the department is in need of addresses of new householders in the Glenmoor area for a card file to be used in cases of emergencies.

He asked that new residents of the community list their names and addresses on a post card and mail it to the fire department, or stop at the fire hall on Thursday nights and register.

"In the excitement of calling the fire department, some people give only their name and hang up before giving the address. With a card file, we could check the list and find the location of the home without delay," Harry Reckner, assistant chief, commented.

Chief Kenneth Mills in a report of August activities said the department has answered two calls for use of the resuscitator for heart attack victims, quelled one grass fire and one house fire, and flushed gasoline at three auto accidents.

Next meeting is Sept. 3.

Ex-Governor Relaxed As Private Citizen

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—When a new state park lodge was opened, former Gov. Bert Comb was among the speakers at the dedication.

'Beatles' Must Wear Bathing Caps In Pool

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — The recreation director at Burlington's municipal swimming pool announced this summer that boys with long "Beatle haircuts" must wear bathing caps.

Joe Davidson said girls have long been required to wear bathing caps so their long hair would not clog pool filters. "Some of these Beatle boys have longer hair than the girls," Davidson explained. "So the rule now must apply to them."

The Prince car then bounced to the right and struck the passing auto of Mrs. Hattie Williams, 37, of 1053 Mapletree St., East Liverpool, who was unhurt. All three vehicles received moderate damage, the patrol said.

Kirk was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

The third accident was on the Y. & O. Rd. three miles south of Route 30 about 1 p. m. when the car of a Chester motorist slid off the east side of the road and struck a utility pole.

No one was injured in the fourth collision, also on the Y. & O. Rd., about 2:30 p. m.

The patrol said a car driven by Louis Tassi, 24, of Columbiana slammed into the rear of the auto operated by Ronald Merritt, 18, of Wellsville R. D. 1. The Merritt vehicle had stopped prior to the crash.

Red Influence Growing In French Congo

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red Chinese influence is growing in the former French Congo. Peking agents seem intent on transforming it into a base for revolution in central and west Africa.

Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic, provides headquarters for what seems to be a mastermind committee of the rebellion in the other Congo, to the east, against the Leopoldville government.

Red China may see bright prospects for the spread of revolutionary violence from seeds planted in the two Congos. Portuguese Angola to the south is a prime target.

Rebels holding a large chunk of the eastern area of Leopoldville Congo, including the city of Stanleyville, refer to their forces as "The People's Liberation Army." The Red Chinese apply the same name to their army.

Evidently, the anti-Leopoldville uprising gets significant help from Brazzaville, an important transport hub for all central Africa. It is headquarters for an organization called the National Council for Liberation of the Congo. This group issues communiques on the progress of rebellion in the neighboring Congo, and describes itself as devoted to "Lumumbism." Patrice Lumumba, a pro-Communist premier of Leopoldville, was murdered in 1961.

Premier Moise Tshombe in Leopoldville complained this week of "interference from certain foreign countries in the service of Communist China, such as Brazzaville Congo and Burundi." Burundi is to the east of Leopoldville Congo.

2 Drivers Forfeit

LISBON — Joseph W. Darling, 27, of Neenah, Wis., forfeited a $15 appearance bond for failure to yield the right-of-way and Harold E. Bergert, 59, of Salineville R.D., $10 bond on a charge of speeding in Mayor Dean Stockman's court Thursday. They were cited by police.

The officer, in a report to Chief Americo Radeschi, said the woman did not mention the shooting until he arrived at the home.

Patrolman Burson said he found the back door open and entered looking for the husband after the wife said he had shot at her. Unable to locate the man, the officer said he and the wife went upstairs and found two young daughters in bed.

There was a shotgun hole in the wall of each bedroom, the officers reported.

The woman told Patrolman Burson her husband arrived home about 5 a.m. after working the 3-11 shift at the mill and began quarreling with her.

He got a .22-caliber automatic and fired one shot but missed and the wife wrestled the gun away from him.

She said he had been drinking.

The husband then grabbed a 16-gauge shotgun and fired once but missed as the wife threw herself to the bedroom floor.

She ran into the other bedroom where he fired and missed again. When the shotgun jammed, he struck her with it as she fled from the house, the officer was told.

She ran out of the home about 5:40 a. m. and notified police at 6:17 a. m., the officer said.

After learning the circumstances, Patrolman Burson notified Lt. Clyde W. Boso who went to the home to join in the investigation. The woman and her children then were brought to police headquarters where she remained until court opened at 9 a. m. and she could file the affidavit.

Glenmoor Firemen To List New Householders Of Area

The Glenmoor Firemen's Association mapped plans to open a campaign to register addresses of new families in their fire area to speed emergency calls at a meeting Thursday night in the fire hall, with 28 present.

George Hamilton, president, explained the department is in need of addresses of new householders in the Glenmoor area for a card file to be used in cases of emergencies.

He asked that new residents of the community list their names and addresses on a post card and mail it to the fire department, or stop at the fire hall on Thursday nights and register.

"In the excitement of calling the fire department, some people give only their name and hang up before giving the address. With a card file, we could check the list and find the location of the home without delay," Harry Reckner, assistant chief, commented.

Chief Kenneth Mills in a report of August activities said the department has answered two calls for use of the resuscitator for heart attack victims, quelled one grass fire and one house fire, and flushed gasoline at three auto accidents.

Next meeting is Sept. 3.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1858, the Lincoln-Douglas debates started in Ottawa, Ill., in their race for the Senate. Although Judge Stephen Douglas won the election, Abraham Lincoln became a national figure, laying the groundwork for his election to the presidency two years later.

On this date:

In 1859, Edward L. Drake struck oil in drilling a well at Titusville, Pa., the first practical well in the modern sense and the start of the gasoline era.

In 1928, in World War I, the second Battle of the Somme began.

In 1943, the Navy disclosed that the Japanese had evacuated their last North American foothold, the island of Kiska in the Aleutian chain.

Ten years ago—A British Labor party delegation arrived in Peiping to promote the establishment of full diplomatic relations between Britain and Red China.

Five years ago—The Chinese Communists reported that at least 720 persons were killed when typhoon Iris hit Fukien Province the day before.

One year ago — South Viet Nam ordered nationwide martial law after troops and police attacked pagodas and arrested hundreds of Buddhists.

—And She Thought He Had Forgotten

It was the beautiful brass wastebasket he had bought to give his wife for Christmas and then forgotten it. He took it home and, sheepishly, handed it to his wife. She almost burst into tears of joy. . .

Their wedding anniversary. And she thought he had forgotten.

2 Candidates Get DeMolay Degree

The initiatory and DeMolay degrees were conferred on two candidates at a meeting of the Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, Thursday night, at the Masonic Temple. Ed Birch, master councilor, presided.

Bill Vale, senior councilor, exemplified the initiatory degree and Byron O'Neill, junior councilor, the DeMolay degree. Bill Brokaw gave the flower talk.

O'Neill gave a report on a concave held in Cincinnati, Aug. 12-16, at which Homer Hoffman, dad, received the honorary Legion of Honor and Robert Kidd, dad, the active Legion of Honor.

6 Killed When Truck Rams Canadian Train

LEONARD, Ont. (AP) — Six persons were reported killed today when a heavy gravel truck rammed the Canadian Pacific Railway's fast Ottawa-Montreal passenger train at a crossing in this community 10 miles east of Ottawa.

First reports said five train passengers were killed, as was the truck driver. Many others were reported injured, some of them trapped in the train. Ambulances were rushed to the area.

Ex-Governor Relaxed As Private Citizen

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—When a new state park lodge was opened, former Gov. Bert Comb was among the speakers at the dedication.

His opening statement was a tacit summary of life away from the spotlight.

"One great advantage of being a private citizen again," he remarked, "is that now nobody expects me to say something brilliant or witty every time I open my mouth."

'Beatles' Must Wear Bathing Caps In Pool

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — The recreation director at Burlington's municipal swimming pool announced this summer that boys with long "Beatle haircuts" must wear bathing caps.

Joe Davidson said girls have long been required to wear bathing caps so their long hair would not clog pool filters. "Some of these Beatle boys have longer hair than the girls," Davidson explained. "So the rule now must apply to them."

King Henry I of England (1068-1135) established the length of a yard as the distance between the tip of his nose and the end of his thumb.

erated by Howard Prince had stopped to make a left turn when the car driven by Chester Proffit of Salineville R.D. 1, in which Mrs. Proffit and children were passengers, slammed into the rear of the Prince vehicle.

The Prince car then bounced to the right and struck the passing auto of Mrs. Hattie Williams, 37, of 1053 Mapletree St., East Liverpool, who was unhurt. All three vehicles received moderate damage, the patrol said.

Proffit will appear in Municipal Court Thursday on charges of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A two-car crash occurred at the intersection of Clarkson and Pancake Rds. about 3:30 p.m. in which Miss Mary Jo Fitch, 21, of Calcutta Acres suffered lacerations of both knees. She was treated by the family doctor.

The patrol indicated a car operated by Frederick Kirk, 20, of Rogers had started across the intersection when the auto driven by Mrs. Mary Logue, 51, of Calcutta Acres, in which Miss Fitch was a passenger, rammed into the right rear of the Kirk vehicle. Both cars received moderate damage.

Kirk was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

The third accident was on the Y. & O. Rd. three miles south of Route 30 about 1 p. m. when the car of a Chester motorist slid off the east side of the road and struck a utility pole.

Lawrence Bowen, 43, of 561 Virginia Ave., was treated at City Hospital for possible injuries of the right foot and right hip. Bowen's son, Michael Bowen, 15, a passenger, was unhurt.

No one was injured in the fourth collision, also on the Y. & O. Rd., about 2:30 p. m.

The patrol said a car driven by Louis Tassi, 24, of Columbiana slammed into the rear of the auto operated by Ronald Merritt, 18, of Wellsville R. D. 1. The Merritt vehicle had stopped prior to the crash.

Tassi was arrested for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Crash With Auto

A Louisville (Ohio) man was reported in "good" condition in City Hospital after suffering abrasions of both legs and a possible fractured right knee and head injury when his motorcycle slid on wet pavement on Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and rammed a car operated by Mrs. Ruth Frischkorn of Wellsville R. D. 1 about 9 p. m. Thursday, police said.

The cycle was demolished and there was moderate damage to the car, police said.

The Sweetness Of Power

Some of the same people who said they were surprised when Republican leaders sipped from the common cup of unity at Hershey now are predicting that Democrats will be split wide open this year. It's a bad prediction.

Despite the fact Democrats have been more disastrously divided than Republicans over issues like slavery, tariff, free silver and states' rights, they have possessed amazing resiliency.

They have been a dramatic example of political cohesiveness. They have staged a continuous demonstration of the secret of long life in politics. Democrats have been infinitely adaptable.

Their party started in 1792. It is the oldest political instrumentality in existence.

IT WAS CALLED the Republican party at the outset and stood for minimum government, the fullest possible measure of individual freedom, states' rights and opposition to centralization of power in Washington.

It has switched positions on all these things, even its name.

In the course of its history, it has shown a weakness for last-ditch positions on issues that could not be decided in its favor, such as slavery and free silver.

As the result of its position on slavery it was forced out of national favor for more than two generations. It further hurt its public image at the turn of the century with the economic heresies of Bryanism.

It is still suffering from wrong-headedness on the slavery issue, which has split it disastrously between its irreconcilable Southern faction and its Northern wing. But no one who has studied the Democratic party's record of resiliency ever swallows a prediction of a wide-open split.

THERE ARE differences among Democrats over civil rights, just as there are among Republicans. But if most Republicans could feel that their party's unity meeting at Hershey actually sweetened the temper of the organization and brought about unity, all but a handful of Democrats can be counted on to pull together after their convention.

They will not have changed their ideas. Southerners and northerners will still be at swords' points. Progressives and reactionaries will be staring down each other's throats. States' rightists in the tradition of Thomas Jefferson will be at odds with federal centralists in the tradition of Franklin Roosevelt.

But for the purpose of getting behind the party's presidential candidate, Democrats will be as one.

PERHAPS IT IS because they have been a coalition so long it doesn't bother them to be in internal disagreement as much as it bothers Republicans.

Perhaps it is because they have been a majority, either actual or potential, so long they don't worry about their conflicting beliefs so much. They can afford defections.

Or perhaps it is because they have learned there is no political bitterness that cannot be made bearable by the sweetness of being in power.

Showdown Inside A Showdown

Americans are used to head-on collisions between the executive and legislative departments in their government of divided powers.

They take it for granted that lawmakers will be at odds with the White House. They are familiar with jealousy between the legislative source of all public authority and the executive exercise of public authority — the endless pulling and hauling between these two co-equal branches of government.

Less rarely, clashes have occurred between the executive and judicial branches, as they did during the New Deal of the Franklin Roosevelt era, when a rubber - stamp Congress was passing laws willy-nilly that the Supreme Court subsequently ruled were unconstitutional.

And there have been clashes, of course, between the judiciary and legislative branches. One of these is occurring now, in the form of a dispute over whether the Supreme Court can order state legislatures to make both their upper and lower houses proportional to population.

The ordinary practice is to make the lower house representative of people and the upper house representative of territory. Ohio is an exception to this rule, with an upper house truly representative of people and a lower house representative in large of territory.

The question is whether the primary dispute is over representation, or the larger question of authority. There is a showdown inside a showdown. Its significance can be understood only if it is remembered that the Founding Fathers divided responsibility three ways to make sure every branch could be challenged by another. This was to be a built-in safeguard against high-handedness in public rule.

It's still working that way.

Need More Be Said?

Nine traffic deaths in a little more than 24 hours. That's the shocking story from Beaver County as the result of two automobile accidents — one of which claimed six lives and the other three.

Nine lives snuffed out in a matter of hours — seven of them teen-agers. And in each case speed, according to investigating authorities, was to blame

Need more be said to youngsters who get behind the wheel of a car — be it in Beaver, Hancock, Columbiana or any other county.

Modern Paleface Has Stone Head

Anything that will make America strong is worth twice what it costs; that goes without saying when more than half the national budget is earmarked for defense.

But sometimes the security items make our eyes pop. Take one about a $174,472 contract for finding out if birds can be trained to keep an eye peeled for the enemy.

The thought is that a bird trained to spot a particular kind of uniform could be sent aloft and if the uniform showed up in the vicinity the sky spy would make a sign of recognition.

You wonder if the "defensicides" who dreamed this one up ever tried to sneak up on a congregation of crows. Suddenly, there's that one startled "Caw-caw-caw" that means in crow talk, "Man come—shoot crows—move out fast!" And away they go. . .

Why, as far back as American novelist James Fenimore Cooper (1789-1851) the pioneers relied on the birds in Cooper's famous "crackling twig" stories to keep them informed about the whereabouts of the pesky redskins and vice versa. Didn't cost them a cent to find out.

They didn't have $174,472 to piddle away on the obvious. They had to use their heads.

Get A Million

By Truman Twill

But even an accounting made on presidential order hits $3.5 million—and that isn't mesquite. Some guesstimates are four times that high.

The other presidential candidate, Barry M. Goldwater, is loaded, too. He is a millionaire-plus. For those of us who still worry about the grocery bill, anything over one million means r-i-c-h.

It used to be that even rich boys played up the poor boy angle on the stump. If a poor kid finally made it to the top and stood for the presidency, he made a special point of telling about his early poverty.

BEST THING that could happen to a presidential candidate was to have been born in a log cabin and raised on a diet of chitlings and turnip greens.

The smell of money had to be covered up with bacon grease, wood smoke and washday suds. The American tradition was fixed and immutable. Presidential material had to rise from the bottom to the top, like cream.

Andrew Johnson, once advertised as a runaway bound-boy, and Abraham Lincoln, who saw the light of day in a three-sided shed on the frontier, had set the all-time pattern, it was believed.

Even Herbert Hoover, who is still around, claimed birth in a log cabin, or its equivalent. But that was the end of that.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was born to wealth. He was the first candidate and the first president who never worked a day in his life at physical labor.

John F. Kennedy also was born to wealth. He was the first candidate and the first president who never had done anything in private enterprise.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, though born poor, has played it down. It wouldn't jibe with the expansive, expensive Texas tradition.

If Sen. Goldwater makes the grade, it is unlikely that ever again will the poor boy theme be mentioned in presidential politics. Even Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon have chosen to be a country squire and a corporation lawyer, respectively, instead of a military pensioner and a small-town barrister. Being poor but proud is no good any more.

Harry Truman and his Bess are saving string, presumably, but Harry and Bess never did fit in with the G. Mennen Williamses, the Averell Harrimans, the assorted Rockefellers, Wall Street big shots and retreaded industrial tycoons who juice up Washington by supporting the style to which they have been accustomed.

It has been a long, long time since Calvin and Grace Coolidge salted away enough presidential salary to see them through the lean years ahead—a long time since Pat Nixon's "plain Republican cloth coat" was offered in contrast with the opposition's glossy mink. Who needs austerity now?

If there are still any poor boys dreaming of making president, forget it, Buster. Go get yourself a million.

An Eye On The Ball

U.S. Helps Tito Despite Red Ties

By Victor Riesel

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia The man in the heavily-guarded White Palace atop one of this city's seven hills is the most benevolent of Communist leaders. But the man — Josip Broz (Tito), marshal of the armies, secretary - general of the Yugoslav League of Communists and president of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia — is nonetheless a hard-core Communist.

Victor Riesel

Therefore, Marshal Tito is backing the Viet Cong guerrilla forces now invading South Viet Nam. He is pledged to the support of North Viet Nam's absolute ruler, "President" Ho Chi Minh. President Tito has said so in series of confidential talks with the foreign diplomatic corps here. Furthermore, he has dispatched word to Washington that he and the Yugoslav League of Communists believe the United States should pull out of South Viet Nam and abandon Saigon entirely.

MARSHAL TITO has taken this immoveable Communist position on the "liberation" of South Viet Nam, though Yugoslavia's own economic position now is so weak that it depends on the United States in particular and the West in general for survival as an independent socialist nation.

Belgrade, though basically antagonistic to the United States and the West in these months of world crisis, is getting the economic assistance it needs to survive.

It's not generally known but in addition to the $2 billion the U.S. has given Yugoslavia since 1948, we now are bolstering Marshal Tito's sensitively balanced economy with millions of dollars worth of purchases we could make elsewhere.

U.S. armed forces in Germany, for example, now buy millions of dollars' worth of beef annually from Yugoslavia. We keep a tight check on its quality and purity through a four-man Pentagon veterinary team. Two of them are stationed here and two in Zagreb. They check constantly to make certain the beef is of high standard.

Thus we help Yugoslavia maintain its beef industry on which it counts heavily for much-needed foreign currency.

IN ADDITION, the United States is helping to keep Yugoslavia's bread basket filled — sometimes on credit but more frequently on a basis which makes the wheat virtually an outright gift. For years now the United States has sent Yugoslavia millions of tons of wheat under Public Law 480. This means we not only pay much of the shipping costs, but also accept payments in local currency. In this case it is the dinar which buys little outside of Yugoslavia. Officially it is pegged at 750 dinars to the dollar, but outside the country it is either unacceptable or is worth less than half what it brings inside the country.

Now Yugoslavia faces a sharp wheat shortage.

I have just driven through the Vojvodina area north of Belgrade and can attest to the failure of the wheat crop in that sector on which the socialist state depends for bread.

Unless the United States sends Marshal Tito between a million and a half and two million tons of wheat, there will be food shortages. We will send them that wheat under the assistance program so the Yugoslav people can have their bread this year.

The United States will get very little out of the transaction except the moral satisfaction of feeding men, women and children.

THE UNITED STATES will do this though Marshal Tito's controlled press constantly attacks America on many issues. Some of its editorials are extremely severe. Yet it rarely criticizes the Soviet Union or the East European Communist bloc.

The Yugoslav Communist press excoriates the United States for our action in East Asia. The publications here are so total in their attitude towards us that they will not even present our position anywhere in Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslav television and radio have constantly referred to the Viet Cong guerrilla armies as the "national liberation forces." But it always refers to the Saigon government as a dictatorship and to South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Khanh as a brutal dictator.

It all was summed up pithily by a British expert as we walked through Marx Engels Square from the big Yugoslav Federation of Labor building towards the gray stone headquarters of the Central Committee of the Yugoslav League of Communists.

"IT'S TRUE," he said pointing to the Communist edifice, "that they are running a nation independent and vastly different from the Russian and East European bloc dictatorships. They make a fetish of neutrality but they are neutral against you chaps in particular and the West in general though we help keep them alive.

"You know there are more than 110,000 Yugoslavs working on the free side of the Danube, all the way from Germany and Austria to the mines of Holland. But, remember, they find that building there across this Marx Engels Square too small and they are constructing a huge new Communist party headquarters near the outskirts of the city. That's symbolic.

"The party control is more subtle here but it is growing. Tito is a Communist, make no mistake about that. One of these days he and his politburo will have to look into their souls because one of these days the West will demand that he make his so-called neutrality neutral."

Perhaps that day should not be postponed.

'March On Washington' Seen Spur To Riots

President Johnson is telling the nation that Americans must reject "street rioters and night riders" and adhere to law and order so as to assure racial peace but the Democratic administration is about a year late in getting at the roots of the violence which has swept many northern cities.

David Lawrence

The sanction unwittingly given by the national administration in Washington to the idea of street demonstrations, while theoretically defensible as the exercise of free speech, has resulted in widespread disorders. Again and again, the demonstrations have had no relationship to the civil rights law or to other public questions, but merely have afforded an opportunity for "hooliganism" — the looting of stores, as well as the throwing of bricks, stones and bottles at innocent citizens and the police.

The police departments in all big cities are worried. When tear gas, fire hoses, police dogs or other methods are used to quell the riots, various civic organizations promptly call it "police brutality," and this in turn cannot but encourage some thoughtless persons of both races to take more chances with street demonstrations.

THE SOBER TRUTH is that cities do not have enough money or policemen to deal with the growing violence. Maybe some of the funds appropriated by Congress to try to get to the moon will have to be made available to help keep peace on earth, especially in American cities.

Perhaps the best example of how expensive it is to handle a mass demonstration was given just a year ago this month in the famous "March on Washington." Few people outside of governmental agencies know how costly the effort was and how the influence of the administration had to be exerted behind the scenes to put white leaders in charge wherever possible so as to diminish the appearance of race conflict.

The inside story of the "March on Washington" has never been officially revealed.

"Under military planning, Lt. Col. John Downie, Jr., office of the assistant chief of staff for intelligence, Department of the Army, was responsible for the military policing operations during the march.

"Col. Downie's plans called for the use of 4,000 combat troops, including one Marine battalion, to be maintained on an alert status ready to take action should a disorder occur.

"In addition to these troops, which were to be stationed in Washington, the Army plans required that an additional 25,000 combat - ready troops be available at Army posts on the outskirts of Washington.

"It was planned that 26 teams of two to four men per team would be assigned to selected areas in Washington for the purpose of observing and reporting any indication of disorder. Information obtained by these military teams was to be relayed to the military district of Washington headquarters.

"LIAISON WAS effected by the military district of Washington with the metropolitan police department, other local and state police organizations, the FBI, the office of special investigations of the Air Force, and the Potomac River Naval Command.

"Under the heading of police preparation, close liaison by the metropolitan police department was established with other police departments in the area, the FBI, and military authorities. All leave for members of the police department was cancelled for the week of Aug. 25 in order that the force would be at its full strength of almost 2,900 men. In addition, 500 civilian reserves were to be on duty in outlying precincts to combat any disorders around the perimeter of the district.

"It was further planned that approximately 2,000 regular police officers would be in uniform on Aug. 28 to police the area of the march. Some uniformed firemen would also be on duty. The remaining regular police officers were to be held in reserve for other shifts and for assignment wherever needed.

"MEMBERS of the National Guard were to be assigned to work with uniformed police officers in police cruisers or Army Jeeps. These national guardsmen carried official police identity cards, and the plans called for the cruisers and Jeeps to patrol the entire Washington area, for the purpose of alerting residents and visitors that sufficient police manpower was visible and available."

The publicity given afterwards to the "March on Washington" as a big "success" doubtless encouraged street demonstrations in other parts of the country where the police departments were unable to afford any such protection as was provided a year ago in the national capital.

Since then, New York City, Rochester, N. Y., Boston, Paterson and Elizabeth, N.J., Philadelphia, Chicago and other large - population centers have had to deal with outbursts of violence which were the result of stimulated racial feelings.

This is precisely what was forecast a year ago when the "March on Washington" was widely interpreted as encouraging demonstrations in places where 25,000 federal troops would not be so readily available.

Unanswered Questions

WASHINGTON

It's not so much what's happened as what hasn't happened that's kept political interest bubbling between the Republicans' convention in July and next week's Democratic convention in Atlantic City.

What hasn't happened has been answers to questions like these which have taken up a lot of newspaper space:

Will Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy run for the Senate from New York where he is not a resident? Who's President Johnson's choice for his vice presidential running-mate? Will Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater ever debate?

These uncertainties shouldn't last long since Johnson will have to give an answer on debating, Kennedy will have to announce his decision soon and Johnson's running-mate will be named before the convention ends.

But while Johnson and Goldwater have butted heads in these past five weeks neither man has quickened pulses with the brilliance of his political utterances.

In this campaign there may be some brilliant political maneuvering but hardly brilliant statements since neither Johnson nor Goldwater is polished in phrase or delivery.

There's a good explanation for the small excitement so far. Both men have had to use these weeks preparing for the campaign which starts rolling in September.

Beside their organizational problems, Goldwater had to spend time trying to restore unity to the Republican party while Johnson had a lot to keep busy with in Congress. His record there will be a big campaign item.

Nevertheless, it's the way the two men have butted heads which foreshadows if not a sparkling campaign, at least a rough-house one.

Goldwater and his team have left little doubt they will go after Johnson with bare fists although up to now they have done it in a scattered and limited rather than in a persistent and concentrated way.

Their sharpest attacks have actually been reactions to something Johnson did, like his handling of the North Vietnamese attacks on U.S. naval vessels and the release of information on his personal fortune.

At this moment the great unknown of the campaign is how far Johnson will go in slugging it out personally with Goldwater. He may try to stay aloof while letting those around him go after Goldwater with their long knives.

The Sweetness Of Power

Some of the same people who said they were surprised when Republican leaders sipped from the common cup of unity at Hershey now are predicting that Democrats will be split wide open this year. It's a bad prediction.

Despite the fact Democrats have been more disastrously divided than Republicans over issues like slavery, tariff, free silver and states' rights, they have possessed amazing resiliency.

They have been a dramatic example of political cohesiveness. They have staged a continuous demonstration of the secret of long life in politics. Democrats have been infinitely adaptable.

Their party started in 1792. It is the oldest political instrumentality in existence.

IT WAS CALLED the Republican party at the outset and stood for minimum government, the fullest possible measure of individual freedom, states' rights and opposition to centralization of power in Washington.

It has switched positions on all these things, even its name.

In the course of its history, it has shown a weakness for last-ditch positions on issues that could not be decided in its favor, such as slavery and free silver.

As the result of its position on slavery it was forced out of national favor for more than two generations. It further hurt its public image at the turn of the century with the economic heresies of Bryanism.

It is still suffering from wrong-headedness on the slavery issue, which has split it disastrously between its irreconcilable Southern faction and its Northern wing. But no one who has studied the Democratic party's record of resiliency ever swallows a prediction of a wide-open split.

THERE ARE differences among Democrats over civil rights, just as there are among Republicans. But if most Republicans could feel that their party's unity meeting at Hershey actually sweetened the temper of the organization and brought about unity, all but a handful of Democrats can be counted on to pull together after their convention.

They will not have changed their ideas. Southerners and northerners will still be at swords' points. Progressives and reactionaries will be staring down each other's throats. States' rightists in the tradition of Thomas Jefferson will be at odds with federal centralists in the tradition of Franklin Roosevelt.

But for the purpose of getting behind the party's presidential candidate, Democrats will be as one.

PERHAPS IT IS because they have been a coalition so long it doesn't bother them to be in internal disagreement as much as it bothers Republicans.

Perhaps it is because they have been a majority, either actual or potential, so long they don't worry about their conflicting beliefs so much. They can afford defections.

Or perhaps it is because they have learned there is no political bitterness that cannot be made bearable by the sweetness of being in power.

Showdown Inside A Showdown

Americans are used to head-on collisions between the executive and legislative departments in their government of divided powers.

They take it for granted that lawmakers will be at odds with the White House. They are familiar with jealousy between the legislative source of all public authority and the executive exercise of public authority — the endless pulling and hauling between these two co-equal branches of government.

Less rarely, clashes have occurred between the executive and judicial branches, as they did during the New Deal of the Franklin Roosevelt era, when a rubber - stamp Congress was passing laws willy-nilly that the Supreme Court subsequently ruled were unconstitutional.

And there have been clashes, of course, between the judiciary and legislative branches. One of these is occurring now, in the form of a dispute over whether the Supreme Court can order state legislatures to make both their upper and lower houses proportional to population.

The ordinary practice is to make the lower house representative of people and the upper house representative of territory. Ohio is an exception to this rule, with an upper house truly representative of people and a lower house representative in large of territory.

The question is whether the primary dispute is over representation, or the larger question of authority. There is a showdown inside a showdown. Its significance can be understood only if it is remembered that the Founding Fathers divided responsibility three ways to make sure every branch could be challenged by another. This was to be a built-in safeguard against high-handedness in public rule.

It's still working that way.

Need More Be Said?

Nine traffic deaths in a little more than 24 hours. That's the shocking story from Beaver County as the result of two automobile accidents — one of which claimed six lives and the other three.

Nine lives snuffed out in a matter of hours — seven of them teen-agers. And in each case speed, according to investigating authorities, was to blame

Need more be said to youngsters who get behind the wheel of a car — be it in Beaver, Hancock, Columbiana or any other county.

Modern Paleface Has Stone Head

Anything that will make America strong is worth twice what it costs; that goes without saying when more than half the national budget is earmarked for defense.

But sometimes the security items make our eyes pop. Take one about a $174,472 contract for finding out if birds can be trained to keep an eye peeled for the enemy.

The thought is that a bird trained to spot a particular kind of uniform could be sent aloft and if the uniform showed up in the vicinity the sky spy would make a sign of recognition.

You wonder if the "defensicides" who dreamed this one up ever tried to sneak up on a congregation of crows. Suddenly, there's that one startled "Caw-caw-caw" that means in crow talk, "Man come—shoot crows—move out fast!" And away they go. . .

Why, as far back as American novelist James Fenimore Cooper (1789-1851) the pioneers relied on the birds in Cooper's famous "crackling twig" stories to keep them informed about the whereabouts of the pesky redskins and vice versa. Didn't cost them a cent to find out.

They didn't have $174,472 to piddle away on the obvious. They had to use their heads.

Get A Million

By Truman Twill

But even an accounting made on presidential order hits $3.5 million—and that isn't mesquite. Some guesstimates are four times that high.

The other presidential candidate, Barry M. Goldwater, is loaded, too. He is a millionaire-plus. For those of us who still worry about the grocery bill, anything over one million means r-i-c-h.

It used to be that even rich boys played up the poor boy angle on the stump. If a poor kid finally made it to the top and stood for the presidency, he made a special point of telling about his early poverty.

BEST THING that could happen to a presidential candidate was to have been born in a log cabin and raised on a diet of chitlings and turnip greens.

The smell of money had to be covered up with bacon grease, wood smoke and washday suds. The American tradition was fixed and immutable. Presidential material had to rise from the bottom to the top, like cream.

Andrew Johnson, once advertised as a runaway bound-boy, and Abraham Lincoln, who saw the light of day in a three-sided shed on the frontier, had set the all-time pattern, it was believed.

Even Herbert Hoover, who is still around, claimed birth in a log cabin, or its equivalent. But that was the end of that.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was born to wealth. He was the first candidate and the first president who never worked a day in his life at physical labor.

John F. Kennedy also was born to wealth. He was the first candidate and the first president who never had done anything in private enterprise.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, though born poor, has played it down. It wouldn't jibe with the expansive, expensive Texas tradition.

If Sen. Goldwater makes the grade, it is unlikely that ever again will the poor boy theme be mentioned in presidential politics. Even Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon have chosen to be a country squire and a corporation lawyer, respectively, instead of a military pensioner and a small-town barrister. Being poor but proud is no good any more.

Harry Truman and his Bess are saving string, presumably, but Harry and Bess never did fit in with the G. Mennen Williamses, the Averell Harrimans, the assorted Rockefellers, Wall Street big shots and retreaded industrial tycoons who juice up Washington by supporting the style to which they have been accustomed.

It has been a long, long time since Calvin and Grace Coolidge salted away enough presidential salary to see them through the lean years ahead—a long time since Pat Nixon's "plain Republican cloth coat" was offered in contrast with the opposition's glossy mink. Who needs austerity now?

If there are still any poor boys dreaming of making president, forget it, Buster. Go get yourself a million.

An Eye On The Ball

U.S. Helps Tito Despite Red Ties

By Victor Riesel

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia

The man in the heavily-guarded White Palace atop one of this city's seven hills is the most benevolent of Communist leaders. But the man — Josip Broz (Tito), marshal of the armies, secretary - general of the Yugoslav League of Communists and president of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia — is nonetheless a hard-core Communist.

Victor Riesel

Therefore, Marshal Tito is backing the Viet Cong guerrilla forces now invading South Viet Nam. He is pledged to the support of North Viet Nam's absolute ruler, "President" Ho Chi Minh. President Tito has said so in series of confidential talks with the foreign diplomatic corps here. Furthermore, he has dispatched word to Washington that he and the Yugoslav League of Communists believe the United States should pull out of South Viet Nam and abandon Saigon entirely.

MARSHAL TITO has taken this immoveable Communist position on the "liberation" of South Viet Nam, though Yugoslavia's own economic position now is so weak that it depends on the United States in particular and the West in general for survival as an independent socialist nation.

Belgrade, though basically antagonistic to the United States and the West in these months of world crisis, is getting the economic assistance it needs to survive.

It's not generally known but in addition to the $2 billion the U.S. has given Yugoslavia since 1948, we now are bolstering Marshal Tito's sensitively balanced economy with millions of dollars worth of purchases we could make elsewhere.

U.S. armed forces in Germany, for example, now buy millions of dollars' worth of beef annually from Yugoslavia. We keep a tight check on its quality and purity through a four-man Pentagon veterinary team. Two of them are stationed here and two in Zagreb. They check constantly to make certain the beef is of high standard.

Thus we help Yugoslavia maintain its beef industry on which it counts heavily for much-needed foreign currency.

IN ADDITION, the United States is helping to keep Yugoslavia's bread basket filled — sometimes on credit but more frequently on a basis which makes the wheat virtually an outright gift. For years now the United States has sent Yugoslavia millions of tons of wheat under Public Law 480. This means we not only pay much of the shipping costs, but also accept payments in local currency. In this case it is the dinar which buys little outside of Yugoslavia. Officially it is pegged at 750 dinars to the dollar, but outside the country it is either unacceptable or is worth less than half what it brings inside the country.

Now Yugoslavia faces a sharp wheat shortage.

I have just driven through the Vojvodina area north of Belgrade and can attest to the failure of the wheat crop in that sector on which the socialist state depends for bread.

Unless the United States sends Marshal Tito between a million and a half and two million tons of wheat, there will be food shortages. We will send them that wheat under the assistance program so the Yugoslav people can have their bread this year.

The United States will get very little out of the transaction except the moral satisfaction of feeding men, women and children.

THE UNITED STATES will do this though Marshal Tito's controlled press constantly attacks America on many issues. Some of its editorials are extremely severe. Yet it rarely criticizes the Soviet Union or the East European Communist bloc.

The Yugoslav Communist press excoriates the United States for our action in East Asia. The publications here are so total in their attitude towards us that they will not even present our position anywhere in Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslav television and radio have constantly referred to the Viet Cong guerrilla armies as the "national liberation forces." But it always refers to the Saigon government as a dictatorship and to South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Khanh as a brutal dictator.

It all was summed up pithily by a British expert as we walked through Marx Engels Square from the big Yugoslav Federation of Labor building towards the gray stone headquarters of the Central Committee of the Yugoslav League of Communists.

"IT'S TRUE," he said pointing to the Communist edifice, "that they are running a nation independent and vastly different from the Russian and East European bloc dictatorships. They make a fetish of neutrality but they are neutral against you chaps in particular and the West in general though we help keep them alive.

"You know there are more than 110,000 Yugoslavs working on the free side of the Danube, all the way from Germany and Austria to the mines of Holland. But, remember, they find that building there across this Marx Engels Square too small and they are constructing a huge new Communist party headquarters near the outskirts of the city. That's symbolic.

"The party control is more subtle here but it is growing. Tito is a Communist, make no mistake about that. One of these days he and his politburo will have to look into their souls because one of these days the West will demand that he make his so-called neutrality neutral."

Perhaps that day should not be postponed.

Group To Attend Convention

Gosney Sees 'Dark Horse' Choice Of Vice President

The vanguard of Columbiana County's delegation to the National Democratic Convention will start for Atlantic City Saturday and Don Gosney, county chairman, said he now believes a "dark horse" may be nominated for President Johnson's runningmate during the weeklong session.

He announced at a meeting of the county finance committee Thursday night at Lisbon that the final poll of House Democrats before the convention showed Sen. Hubert Humphrey first choice with Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing and Atty. General Robert Kennedy tied for second.

Hays is the 18th District incumbent. Kennedy was believed ready to announce today for U. S. senator from New York, which would take him out of the running for the vice president's nomination. The poll was taken at Washington yesterday.

Gosney, delegate - at - large, and Guy Mauro of Salem, alternate and vice chairman of the county committee, will leave by car tomorrow. Maurice Rapport of East Liverpool, second alternate, will leave with his family Sunday. John Taylor of Salem also is an at-large delegate.

Others in the county committee will attend during the week. Rep. Hays will arrive Monday.

The finance committee met with city chairmen and presidents of Democratic Women's Clubs of the county to discuss plans for the door-to-door solicitation to be held countywide Sept. 19. The group decided on a Saturday solicitation rather than on Sept. 20, the date designated for the statewide campaign. Gosney said some 500 persons will participate in the drive to help finance the Nov. 3 campaign.

Kenneth Bell of Wellsville, county auditor, was named chairman. In other business, a committee was named to investigate complaints that sheriff's deputies have been using county cars in traveling through the county to erect posters for the candidacy of Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, Republican, for another term. About 30 attended, along with county candidates, at the Democratic headquarters.

'Olympic Star' Satellite In Near-Stationary Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The space agency reported today that Syncom 3 had achieved a near-stationary orbit and said it was confident the communications package could be maneuvered into position as the world's first stationary satellite —one that hovers over a single spot on earth.

"Syncom 3 looks very good and is in near-synchronous (stationary) orbit," a statement said. "After evaluation of the data, project officials will determine what future maneuvers will be made."

Evaluation of tracking data had been delayed several hours by a balky computer at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md.

The near-stationary orbit was achieved high above Sumatra Thursday when a satellite motor fired to shift Syncom 3 out of a wide-looping path into a circular orbit where both the high and low points are about 23,000 miles.

The motor firing, triggered by a ground radio signal, also increased the spacecraft speed so that it matched that of the rotation of the earth. Thus, the satellite appears to hang almost motionless over the Sumatra area in the Indian Ocean.

It was hoped the maneuver would arrest Syncom 3 directly above the equator. However, this was not fully realized and the satellite apparently is weaving north and south across the equatorial line at a slight angle.

The angular movement can be eliminated by radio commands to small gas jets aboard the satellite. These jets also will be used to move Syncom 3 from the position above Sumatra to a stationary outpost above the Pacific Ocean intersection of the equator and International Date Line. The maneuvering is expected to take about 10 days.

In that permanent position, the satellite, which was launched Wednesday from Cape Kennedy, would be available for extensive communications experiments between stations in the United States and Asia.

Only three such satellites, equally spaced about the equator, would provide worldwide coverage.

The mid-Pacific location also was selected because Syncom 3 would be in position to relay television pictures of the Oct. 10-24 Olympic Games in Japan for distribution in North America and Europe.

Television owes a debt to a 19th-Century Irish telegrapher. Long before Marconi sent his first radio messages, Louis May discovered in 1873 that the element selenium could translate light into electric impulses.

Striking Union Gives Terms For Return To Work

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Krutch, acting president of Typographical Local 53 which has been on strike against the Cleveland Call & Post for 359 days, has informed Harry Alexander, the paper's business manager, the terms under which the union would return to work.

Alexander had asked that the conditions be formally presented.

Krutch and Martin W. Hamrich, local secretary-treasurer, said the conditions are:

—Restoration of jobs to all employes now on strike with full priority rights.

—A pledge that neither party will discriminate against the other or any employes because of strike activities.

—Binding arbitration on cases in which employes contend they have been discharged because of strike activity.

"We are pleased with the fresh and apparently flexible approach of management," Krutch said. "Progress is being made for the first time."

The weekly paper—published by Ohio's industrial relations director, William O. Walker, and circulated in the Negro community—has continued to publish during the strike.

Councilman Explains Breaking Into Gym

CLEVELAND (AP)—Councilman Anthony Pecyk says airport commissioner Donald W. Patrick has no business with a "private gym" at Cleveland Hopkins Airport. That's why, says Pecyk, the councilman took hammer and hand and broke into the gym in full view of reporters.

Asserting Patrick has used the gym in secret for more than a year and has charged the city overtime for the periods he worked out there, Pecyk demanded Patrick's resignation Thursday night.

Patrick denied there was anything wrong connected with the gymnasium. He said keeping fit there—during his own time—enabled him to work long periods without taking any sick leave.

Ohio Delegation Has More Women Than Ever Before

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N.J., next week will have more women in it than ever before.

Thirty-five women will attend as delegates and alternates. Four years ago, there were 16 women and in 1952 there were only eight.

A report from Democratic delegation headquarters said city women will outnumber rural women 4-3 in the delegation.

National Committeewoman Helen Gunsett of Van Wert has one of the most important jobs of either sex. She is co-chairman of the powerful credential committee which will pass on the disputed Mississippi delegations.

The Buckeye State will send 128 delegates to the convention. They share the state's 99 party votes.

Group To Attend Convention

Gosney Sees 'Dark Horse' Choice Of Vice President

The vanguard of Columbiana County's delegation to the National Democratic Convention will start for Atlantic City Saturday and Don Gosney, county chairman, said he now believes a "dark horse" may be nominated for President Johnson's runningmate during the weeklong session.

He announced at a meeting of the county finance committee Thursday night at Lisbon that the final poll of House Democrats before the convention showed Sen. Hubert Humphrey first choice with Rep Wayne L. Hays of Flushing and Atty. General Robert Kennedy tied for second.

Hays is the 18th District incumbent. Kennedy was believed ready to announce today for U. S. senator from New York, which would take him out of the running for the vice president's nomination. The poll was taken at Washington yesterday.

Gosney, delegate - at - large, and Guy Mauro of Salem, alternate and vice chairman of the county committee, will leave by car tomorrow. Maurice Rapport of East Liverpool, second alternate, will leave with his family Sunday. John Taylor of Salem also is an at-large delegate.

Others in the county committee will attend during the week. Rep. Hays will arrive Monday.

The finance committee met with city chairmen and presidents of Democratic Women's Clubs of the county to discuss plans for the door-to-door solicitation to be held countywide Sept. 19. The group decided on a Saturday solicitation rather than on Sept. 20, the date designated for the statewide campaign. Gosney said some 500 persons will participate in the drive to help finance the Nov. 3 campaign.

Kenneth Bell of Wellsville, county auditor, was named chairman. In other business, a committee was named to investigate complaints that sheriff's deputies have been using county cars in traveling through the county to erect posters for the candidacy of Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, Republican, for another term. About 30 attended, along with county candidates, at the Democratic headquarters.

General Given 'DSM'

Maj. Gen. Clyde H. Mitchell, Wellsville native, is shown receiving the Distinguished Service Medal — the third highest Air Force decoration —at a ceremony on his recent retirement at Norton (Calif.) Air Force Base.

Gen. Mark E. Bradley Jr., commander of the Air Force Logistics Command, pins the coveted award on the former area resident.

Gen. Mitchell was commander of the San Bernardino Air Materiel Area of the Air Force Logistics Command at the time of his retirement.

Gen. Mitchell, a graduate of Wellsville High School, closed a military career that spanned more than 37 years service. He was first commissioned in the Michigan Air National Guard in October 1929.

The general, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nile H. Mitchell of Bradenton, Fla., received his B.S. degree in aeronautical engineering in 1930 from the University of Detroit. He received his pilot training as an aviation cadet prior to being commissioned and advanced through the years to the aeronauticla rating of command pilot.

Gen. Mitchell was assigned to Wright - Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton to assist in expediting aircraft production during World War II. Since that time he has held numerous command and staff positions, primarily in the field of Air Force logistics.

The citation accompanying the medal lauded the general for "exceptionally meritorious service to the U.S. in a position of great responsibility as commander of the San Bernardino Air Material Area."

Gen. Mitchell, whose wife is the former Hermine C. Ulrich, will become manager of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce.

Health Board Given Reports

Only routine business was transacted at the meeting of the Board of Health Thursday night at the City Hall.

Results of milk samples tested at the Pittsburgh Control Laboratory revealed what board members termed "a good report."

There were 105 males and 93 females born in East Liverpool in the period from June 19 to Aug. 20, Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported.

There were 83 deaths recorded in the same period, she noted.

Septimus Cook, city health commissioner, who resumed his duties Aug. 3 following a long illness, reported 89 inspections and complaints while Gene J. Smith, sanitary policeman, said he made 401 contacts in farm, restaurant, taverns and other inspections.

Miss Selma Ladzinske, public health nurse, reported 317 visits in the fields of venereal disease, tuberculosis, child health, cancer, heart and adult health.

2 Children Hurt In Home Mishaps

Four persons, including two youngsters, were treated at City Hospital Thursday for minor injuries in mishaps at home.

Mrs. Edna Browne, 43, of 1176 Harker Ave., was treated at 11:30 a.m. for a laceration of right small finger injured on washer.

Vicky Hayes, 5, daughter of Charles Hayes, 322 10th St., Wellsville, fell on brick and was treated for a lacerated chin.

Helen Coconis, 17, of the Chester-Newell Rd., was treated at 5:30 p.m. for a laceration of her left wrist injured on a glass percolator.

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Two men are in Good Samaritan Hospital with injuries suffered when a pipe exploded at the Plum Brook facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. NASA officials said the accident Thursday had nothing to do with nuclear energy and none was released from the facility's reactor.

Ohio's 37th Has Highest Ratings In Field Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes commended the Ohio National Guard's 37th Infantry Division Thursday on obtaining the highest ratings in the nation in its recently concluded annual field training.

Rhodes noted that the division's 88 units, made up of nearly 9,000 Ohioans, attained average grades of 94.08 on the basis of evaluations by regular Army officers who inspected nearly every phase of training at Camp Grayling, Mich. The 40 battalion of higher staffs attained an even higher average of 95.73.

An average of 95 out of a possible 100 would rank the division as superior. There never has been an overall superior National Guard or reserve division. The 37th's ratings, however, are the highest recorded so far by any reserve component division.

Cleveland Trust Firm Plans To Auction Stock

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Trust Co. plans to auction off Tuesday 27,734 shares of stock in a Port Clinton bank to satisfy a $1.1 million loan obligation of the ILICA Co.

The stock was given to Cleveland Trust as security for the loan. Cleveland Trust has advertised that the loan principal is $1,109,360 and interest as of Aug. 7 amounted to $26,326. Since then interest has been mounting by $169 a day.

The shares of common capital stock are among Investment Life's assets that Ohio Insurance Supt. William E. Morris is seeking to recover from the ILICA Co.

Morris, acting as court-appointed conservator of Investment Life, filed suit on July 29 against the insurance firm and its trustees, asking common pleas court to enjoin Cleveland Trust from selling the stock or the Port Clinton bank from transferring it.

Judge Donald F. Lybarger denied on Aug. 12 a request by Cleveland Trust lawyers to dismiss the two banks as co-defendants. However, the judge pointed out that as long as they were not enjoined, the banks had a right to dispose of the stock.

Morris contended that Investment Life trustees used the insurance firm's resources to buy the stock for the holding company, when they offered it to Cleveland Trust as collateral.

Cattle Barn Bidding Extended To Aug. 31

LISBON — Bidding for the new cattle barn project at the County Home has been extended to noon Aug. 31. The barn will replace one which burned. The extension was necessary because plans couldn't be completed in time so contractors could submit offers, which were to have been received at noon today.

In other business of the county commissioners at their meeting Thursday, a slag grant of $300 was given to Wayne Township trustees for road purposes.

Travel allowance was approved for Donald Hepp, who attended a welfare workshop at New Philadelphia, and for Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, to attend a legislative committee meeting of the State Clerk of Courts Association Sept. 9 at Columbus. Next meeting is Monday.

Youths Camp To End With 2 Crownings

The weeklong camp of the Junior High Crusaders of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church will end with a crowning ceremony tonight at the Anderson Blvd. campgrounds. The camp began Monday.

A camp prince and princess will be selected by boys and girls from a group of candidates previously chosen.

The final selection will be made on the basis of friendliness, attitude, co-operation, sportsmanship and Christian spirit. Additional honors are awarded for achievements in sports with various pins and badges to be given as part of the camp program.

Eighty-five boys and girls have been attending the program of Bible instruction, crafts, recreation and spiritual and social development this week.

The Rev. Paul Daniel, pastor of the Free Methodist Church in Sarver, Pa., was camp director, assisted by a staff of 30.

Thursday night, several tents were pitched and a number of the youngsters and counselors prepared breakfast over a camp fire.

Jefferson Legion To Host Meeting

Plans were mapped for a fall conference of the 10th District when the Jefferson County American Legion Council met Wednesday night in Tiltonsville.

The conference for the 79 posts in nine counties of the district, with 14,204 members, will be held Sunday, Oct. 18 at Tiltonsville High School. Jerry Knight of Massillon is district commander, and Walter McCoy of Lisbon is first vice commander.

Robert Patchen of Columbiana, treasurer of the Ohio Department, reported on activities at the state department headquarters. James Poynter of East Liverpool, third vice commander, reported that Jefferson County's membership quota for 1965 is 2,330. Last year it was 2,240.

Atty Michael Blischak, service officer, reported that many veterans fail to notify the Veterans Administration or the Post Office when they change residence. He said a special form requesting a change of address should be used to avoid any delay in receiving checks from the VA.

Next meeting is Sept. 15 at Smithfield Post 396.

West Virginia Funds Provided Under Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received a military construction bill from Congress that provides $569,000 for projects in West Virginia.

The bill allocates $502,000 for the Air National Guard facility at Martinsburg. The remaining $67,000 will be used to construct an Air National Guard dormitory at Charleston's Kanawha Airport.

The $1.5 billion bill was approved Thursday by the Senate and sent to the President.

Ohio To Have 57 More Precincts In Fall Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio will have 57 precincts more in the Nov. 3 election than it had in the May primary, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reports.

Brown said he anticipated a heavy vote. He said the increase in precincts, based on reports from 66 of the state's 88 counties, is due to population shifts. The state had 13,117 precincts and 13,312 polling places in May.

City Autoist Hurt In Crash

Robert R. Campbell Jr., 27, of 815 Midway Ln. was treated at City Hospital Thursday afternoon following an accident in which the slippery pavement on Harvey Ave. was blamed for a two-car collision, police said.

Campbell suffered a contusion of the forehead after he halted his 24-year-old auto in a line of traffic and it was struck in the rear by a car operated by David Irwin, 22, of R. D. 3.

In a report to police headquarters, Irwin said he applied his brakes but his 1963 compact slid into the rear of Campbell's 1940 auto.

The front end of the compact driven by Irwin and owned by Mary Alice Stark of Williams Ave. was damaged along with the rear bumper and deck of the Campbell car.

The fact a driver's foot slipped off the brake pedal and hit the accelerator was blamed for a two-way crash Thursday at 11 a.m. on St. Clair Ave. at Walnut St., police said.

The collision involved a 1959 station wagon driven by Julie A. Hall, 21, of Park Way and a 1960 sedan operated by Regis F. McConnell, 1604 Clark Ave., Wellsville, officers said.

The woman said she was proceeding downgrade on St. Clair when McConnell pulled off Walnut St. and hit her auto.

McConnell told officers he was halted at the intersection, waiting for traffic to clear, when his foot slipped off the brake and hit the gas pedal.

The slip caused his auto to lurch forward and hit the Hall car, he said. There was damage to the left rear door and fender of the Hall vehicle and the left front fender and hood of McConnell's auto, police said.

Viet Nam

would give Khanh until next Tuesday to give them satisfactory replies, or they would "enlarge the struggle."

Student boycotts of high schools and universities appeared to be widespread today, and examinations were being cut.

The Americans were killed in Kien Hoa Province south of Saigon while the outfit was searching for Viet Cong guerrillas who overran the military outpost of Phu Tuc Thursday.

Three officers and an enlisted man, they were among 202 casualties of Saigon government forces in what may have been the costliest single fight to date for Vietnamese troops.

The bodies of the four Americans were recovered today by a relief column which mopped up the area. The relief troops killed a few snipers and took some prisoners, but made no major contact with the guerrilla force.

Another American soldier was killed today in a Communist ambush 370 miles north of Saigon near the Laotian frontier.

He was the fifth U.S. serviceman slain in Viet Nam in 12 hours and the 189th to fall in combat since 1961.

During the day, Buddhist students staged large rallies in the key cities of Saigon and Hue commemorating the first anniversary of bloody raids on Buddhist pagodas by the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Police, fearing an increase of anti-government feeling, stood by passively. But authorities in both Saigon and Hue braced for more rallies by strengthening security.

Children and pregnant women were among 1,000 villagers who stalled a government troop column for hours in the coastal area below Tuy Hoa, 230 miles northeast of Saigon. Demonstrators threw themselves in front and back of the column's vehicles.

Military sources said they believed 85 per cent of the demonstrators were sympathetic to the Viet Cong. The sources said they feared the Communists might use similar tactics in the future.

Cleveland Trust Firm Plans To Auction Stock

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Trust Co. plans to auction off Tuesday 27,734 shares of stock in a Port Clinton bank to satisfy a $1.1 million loan obligation of the ILICA Co.

The ILICA Co. is a holding company of the ill-fated Investment Life Insurance Co. of America.

The stock was given to Cleveland Trust as security for the loan. Cleveland Trust has advertised that the loan principal is $1,109,360 and interest as of Aug. 7 amounted to $26,326. Since then interest has been mounting by $169 a day.

The shares of common capital stock are among Investment Life's assets that Ohio Insurance Supt. William E. Morris is seeking to recover from the ILICA Co.

Morris, acting as court-appointed conservator of Investment Life, filed suit on July 29 against the insurance firm and its trustees, asking common pleas court to enjoin Cleveland Trust from selling the stock or the Port Clinton bank from transferring it.

Judge Donald F. Lybarger denied on Aug. 12 a request by Cleveland Trust lawyers to dismiss the two banks as co-defendants. However, the judge pointed out that as long as they were not enjoined, the banks had a right to dispose of the stock.

Morris contended that Investment Life trustees used the insurance firm's resources to buy the stock for the holding company, when they offered it to Cleveland Trust as collateral.

In other business of the county commissioners at their meeting Thursday, a slag grant of $300 was given to Wayne Township trustees for road purposes.

Travel allowance was approved for Donald Hepp, who attended a welfare workshop at New Philadelphia, and for Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, to attend a legislative committee meeting of the State Clerk of Courts Association Sept. 9 at Columbus. Next meeting is Monday.

The final selection will be made on the basis of friendliness, attitude, co-operation, sportsmanship and Christian spirit. Additional honors are awarded for achievements in sports with various pins and badges to be given as part of the camp program.

Eighty-five boys and girls have been attending the program of Bible instruction, crafts, recreation and spiritual and social development this week.

The Rev. W. C. A. McFarlane of Perth, Ont., Canada, was camp chaplain.

Jefferson Legion To Host Meeting

Plans were mapped for a fall conference of the 10th District when the Jefferson County American Legion Council met Wednesday night in Tiltonsville.

The conference for the 79 posts in nine counties of the district, with 14,204 members, will be held Sunday, Oct. 18 at Tiltonsville High School. Jerry Knight of Massillon is district commander, and Walter McCoy of Lisbon is first vice commander.

Robert Patchen of Columbiana, treasurer of the Ohio Department, reported on activities at the state department headquarters. James Poynter of East Liverpool, third vice commander, reported that Jefferson County's membership quota for 1965 is 2,330. Last year it was 2,240.

Atty Michael Blischak, service officer, reported that many veterans fail to notify the Veterans Administration or the Post Office when they change residence. He said a special form requesting a change of address should be used to avoid any delay in receiving checks from the VA.

Next meeting is Sept. 15 at Smithfield Post 396.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received a military construction bill from Congress that provides $569,000 for projects in West Virginia.

The bill allocates $502,000 for the Air National Guard facility at Martinsburg. The remaining $67,000 will be used to construct an Air National Guard dormitory at Charleston's Kanawha Airport.

The $1.5 billion bill was approved Thursday by the Senate and sent to the President.

Ohio To Have 57 More Precincts In Fall Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio will have 57 precincts more in the Nov. 3 election than it had in the May primary, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reports.

Brown said he anticipated a heavy vote. He said the increase in precincts, based on reports from 66 of the state's 88 counties, is due to population shifts. The state had 13,117 precincts and 13,312 polling places in May.

City Autoist Hurt In Crash

Robert R. Campbell Jr., 27, of 815 Midway Ln. was treated at City Hospital Thursday afternoon following an accident in which the slippery pavement on Harvey Ave. was blamed for a two-car collision, police said.

Campbell suffered a contusion of the forehead after he halted his 24-year-old auto in a line of traffic and it was struck in the rear by a car operated by David Irwin, 22, of R. D. 3.

In a report to police headquarters, Irwin said he applied his brakes but his 1963 compact slid into the rear of Campbell's 1940 auto.

The front end of the compact driven by Irwin and owned by Mary Alice Stark of Williams Ave. was damaged along with the rear bumper and deck of the Campbell car.

The fact a driver's foot slipped off the brake pedal and hit the accelerator was blamed for a two-way crash Thursday at 11 a.m. on St. Clair Ave. at Walnut St., police said.

The collision involved a 1959 station wagon driven by Julie A. Hall, 21, of Park Way and a 1960 sedan operated by Regis F. McConnell, 1604 Clark Ave., Wellsville, officers said.

The woman said she was proceeding downgrade on St. Clair when McConnell pulled off Walnut St. and hit her auto.

McConnell told officers he was halted at the intersection, waiting for traffic to clear, when his foot slipped off the brake and hit the gas pedal.

The slip caused his auto to lurch forward and hit the Hall car, he said. There was damage to the left rear door and fender of the Hall vehicle and the left front fender and hood of McConnell's auto, police said.

would give Khanh until next Tuesday to give them satisfactory replies, or they would "enlarge the struggle."

Student boycotts of high schools and universities appeared to be widespread today, and examinations were being cut.

The Americans were killed in Kien Hoa Province south of Saigon while the outfit was searching for Viet Cong guerrillas who overran the military outpost of Phu Tuc Thursday.

Three officers and an enlisted man, they were among 202 casualties of Saigon government forces in what may have been the costliest single fight to date for Vietnamese troops.

The bodies of the four Americans were recovered today by a relief column which mopped up the area. The relief troops killed a few snipers and took some prisoners, but made no major contact with the guerrilla force.

Another American soldier was killed today in a Communist ambush 370 miles north of Saigon near the Laotian frontier.

He was the fifth U.S. serviceman slain in Viet Nam in 12 hours and the 189th to fall in combat since 1961.

During the day, Buddhist students staged large rallies in the key cities of Saigon and Hue commemorating the first anniversary of bloody raids on Buddhist pagodas by the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Police, fearing an increase of anti-government feeling, stood by passively. But authorities in both Saigon and Hue braced for more rallies by strengthening security.

Children and pregnant women were among 1,000 villagers who stalled a government troop column for hours in the coastal area below Tuy Hoa, 230 miles northeast of Saigon. Demonstrators threw themselves in front and back of the column's vehicles.

Military sources said they believed 85 per cent of the demonstrators were sympathetic to the Viet Cong. The sources said they feared the Communists might use similar tactics in the future.

Problems, Problems

Democratic Platform Committee Hears Plenty

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — If you want to learn how difficult we taxpayers are to please drop in on a meeting of a political platform committee.

Problems, problems, everybody has problems.

The Democrats moved in from Washington Thursday — this may be the only itinerant platform committee in history — to continue hewing, planing and sanding the party planks. And by breaking up into three panels, they managed to hear about such questions as:

Why must the tax on women's handbags be continued? Why does the government call handbags a luxury when every woman knows they're a necessity?

What about the Supreme Court and prayers in public schools?

And did you know the number of post offices in this country is decreasing alarmingly?

The national convention opens Monday.

Sometime between now and early next week the Democrats must come up with a platform that they hope will take into account everyone's worries, will appeal to all and will offend nobody.

To see how difficult this is, let's drop in on Panel 1. It's galloping through foreign policy, immigration, national defense and the Constitution, which is a fairly large gallop.

Charles W. Winegarner, representing the Citizens Congressional Committee of Los Angeles, has the podium. He says his committee is made up of "numerous groups concerned with the fact that a recent Supreme Court decision has, for all practical purposes, outlawed the right of our children to experience devotions in public schools."

Winegarner wants a constitutional amendment that would, in effect, nullify the court's decision.

But Franklin C. Salisbury also is here, representing the Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, usually called simply by the initial POAU.

He says of those who would amend the Constitution on this point: "Their sincerity is matched by their lack of memory, their ignorance of history, and their unwillingness to think the problem through."

Now on to Panel 2, which worries over economy, business, labor, agriculture and natural resources. And, of course, women's handbags.

This tax was put on during the war, and several witnesses said it's time it was dropped. Here there was no opposition, at least publicly.

OFFICE GOSSIP

Q. My friend, an attractive brunette, married a nice fellow, also a brunette. They now have, of all things, a redheaded baby. Some of the girls in the office wonder about this. Any comments?

A. Yes — stop the gossip! Hair color, an inherited trait, is passed along not just by parents, but by the parent's parents and by ancestors even further back. Therefore, it isn't too unusual for a redheaded baby to pop up in a "no redheads" family group.

SMOKING AND WEIGHT

Q. Is it the rule, rather than the exception, for a person to gain weight after quitting cigarettes?

A. Probably the rule. Doctors studied a group of business and professional men who agreed to give up smoking. Weights were checked two years before and two years after giving up cigarettes, and were compared with the weight patterns of men of similar age and weight who continued to smoke or who had never smoked. Men who gave up smoking gained an average of 9 pounds more than those in the other group.

Democratic Platform Committee Hears Plenty

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — If you want to learn how difficult we taxpayers are to please drop in on a meeting of a political platform committee.

Problems, problems, everybody has problems.

The Democrats moved in from Washington Thursday — this may be the only itinerant platform committee in history — to continue hewing, planing and sanding the party planks. And by breaking up into three panels, they managed to hear about such questions as:

Why must the tax on women's handbags be continued? Why does the government call handbags a luxury when every woman knows they're a necessity?

What about the Supreme Court and prayers in public schools?

And did you know the number of post offices in this country is decreasing alarmingly?

The national convention opens Monday.

Sometime between now and early next week the Democrats must come up with a platform that they hope will take into account everyone's worries, will appeal to all and will offend nobody.

To see how difficult this is, let's drop in on Panel 1. It's galloping through foreign policy, immigration, national defense and the Constitution, which is a fairly large gallop.

Charles W. Winegarner, representing the Citizens Congressional Committee of Los Angeles, has the podium. He says his committee is made up of "numerous groups concerned with the fact that a recent Supreme Court decision has, for all practical purposes, outlawed the right of our children to experience devotions in public schools."

Winegarner wants a constitutional amendment that would, in effect, nullify the court's decision.

But Franklin C. Salisbury also is here, representing the Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, usually called simply by the initial POAU.

He says of those who would amend the Constitution on this point: "Their sincerity is matched by their lack of memory, their ignorance of history, and their unwillingness to think the problem through."

Now on to Panel 2, which worries over economy, business, labor, agriculture and natural resources. And, of course, women's handbags.

This tax was put on during the war, and several witnesses said it's time it was dropped. Here there was no opposition, at least publicly.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Parents Shouldn't Dwell On Past

Please let your heart and mind dwell for a few moments on the child soon to return to school, who lagged at school last year or was not promoted last June, or who barely was promoted on probation or with a warning. Suppose he is your child, in the third, sixth or tenth grade. You can remember how you acted toward his school record at the close of school last June.

Dr. Garry Myers

You can remember if you brought the matter up unhappily during the summer. You may be tempted, especially during these few weeks before school, to warn him of dire consequences if he doesn't get down to working hard and doing well at school.

I WISH I might attract you to a wiser way. Avoid any reference to his low school achievement last year. If he should bring the matter up, try hard not to exhort him to do better school work in the coming year. Instead, endeavor to treat last year's experiences as water over the dam. Quietly assure him that you parents are going to try to help him find ways to enjoy more success at school this year. In the meanwhile, enjoy him.

Between now and the first day of school, you parents should discuss his school problems in private a number of times. Recall his ways of doing homework, how promptly and regularly he went at it last year, and plan the kind of program for the coming year that you may be able to have him follow.

Take stock of the subject or subjects in which he has lagged. Look into his reading. If he is a poor reader, he will have some trouble in most of his studies. You don't need to be an expert to find out if he can read well. You probably know already. Having him read the printed matter on a food package, or some news items in your local newspaper, may enlighten you. You could have him do this without his knowing you are testing him.

IF YOU find him a poor reader, you might well consider hiring a tutor, as soon as school begins, to help him learn to read better. You yourselves can help him if you keep very calm and patient and find reading matter that is interesting to him and easy enough for him to read successfully.

If he is under the fifth or sixth grade, resolve that one of you will read aloud to him daily; also, at these or higher grades, that you will read with him some of his assignments in history, geography or elementary science. Show him how to read a paragraph silently, and then to state in a sentence or so of his own words what this paragraph says.

Also win his consent to read for twenty minutes an evening some material far easier than his regular school books. This material might need to be two or three school grades below his present textbooks.

When he works in such ways, be sure no brother or sister who can read better is present. Always help this child to keep his self - respect.

As he does written homework, be ready to spell any word he asks you to spell. Encourage him to do his written work neatly and carefully; even require him, if time is available, to recopy incorrect or untidy work to be handed in at school.

HAVING guided him in beginning and pursuing his homework promptly and faithfully, try to find ways to help him get better results from his efforts. It would be wonderful if he could see that you are not hounding him to work harder, but to work in more efficient ways. To these ends, you might consider it desirable to find expert help.

My bulletins, "Parents and The Child's Homework" and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting," may be secured by sending stamped, self - addressed envelope to me in care of The Review.

Smokes Up To 10 A Day

Nothing Like Fine Cigar, Declares Chicago Woman

BOSTON (AP) — Miss Rosemary O'Brien, red haired and blue eyed, sat across the dinner table in a Boston restaurant and said, "There's nothing like a fine cigar," as she put a panatela to her soft, full lips.

The reaction was immediate, but Miss O'Brien paid little attention.

"When you've been smoking cigars as I have for four years, you get accustomed to having other women look at you in disbelief," said Miss O'Brien.

"Strangely, women aren't as shocked as the men when I smoke my cigars in public. The men appear to be absolutely dumbfounded. In public I constantly hear one man whisper to another 'Do you see what I see?'"

Miss O'Brien, in her early 30s and a resident of Kenmore Avenue, Chicago, came to Boston as an unwanted delegate to the fourth annual national convention of the Cigar Smokers of America, meeting today and Saturday.

The national organization — made up of humidors in eight cities — would rather not have women as members.

Miss O'Brien is in the unique position of having helped found the Chicago Humidor and expand its membership to more than 160.

"What's wrong with women?" asked Miss OBrien, who stands 5 feet 5 and says she measures 37-26-35.

"I smoke up to 10 cigars a day and like to be with men who smoke cigars. A lot of women are now taking up cigar smoking."

Miss O'Brien says she started smoking cigars when she playfully took a puff of a cigar her date was smoking as they drove in a car.

"I enjoyed it," she said, "and I've been smoking cigars since that night four years ago."

The group voted to raise money to build dugouts next spring at the Lawrenceville Athletic field. The association is selling dishcloths for this project.

The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Marian Reed. Mrs. Janet Fox was appointed chairman of the ways and means committee.

Lunch was served by the hostess and daughters, Nina Williams and Patricia Williams. Next meeting is Sept. 16 at the home of Mrs. Mary Holcomb of Grandview.

Man's Arrested Who Fled From Pen 13 Years Ago

WHEELING (AP) — Ohio County authorities have arrested a Wheeling man who they say escaped from the Virginia Penitentiary 13 years ago.

He was identified as James Evan Marshall, 54, a garbage collector and auto repairman here since 1951.

Marshall, married just three months ago, used the alias of James Leigh while living here, authorities said.

He told sheriff's deputies he was convicted of second degree murder in Richmond, Va., in 1949 and served about one year of an 18-year sentence before escaping.

Marshall was identified by deputies from a photograph after he was served with papers in a civil suit. He was arrested Thursday.

The suit charges him with taking $7,000 from the garbage company where he worked.

Authorities said Marshall admitted the Richmond prison escape, but wouldn't say how he got out. "I might have another chance," he told newsmen.

Prison officials plan to return him to Richmond.

IF YOU find him a poor reader, you might well consider hiring a tutor, as soon as school begins, to help him learn to read better. You yourselves can help him if you keep very calm and patient and find reading matter that is interesting to him and easy enough for him to read successfully.

If he is under the fifth or sixth grade, resolve that one of you will read aloud to him daily; also, at these or higher grades, that you will read with him some of his assignments in history, geography or elementary science. Show him how to read a paragraph silently, and then to state in a sentence or so of his own words what this paragraph says.

Also win his consent to read for twenty minutes an evening some material far easier than his regular school books. This material might need to be two or three school grades below his present textbooks.

When he works in such ways, be sure no brother or sister who can read better is present. Always help this child to keep his self - respect.

As he does written homework, be ready to spell any word he asks you to spell. Encourage him to do his written work neatly and carefully; even require him, if time is available, to recopy incorrect or untidy work to be handed in at school.

HAVING guided him in beginning and pursuing his homework promptly and faithfully, try to find ways to help him get better results from his efforts. It would be wonderful if he could see that you are not hounding him to work harder, but to work in more efficient ways. To these ends, you might consider it desirable to find expert help.

Smokes Up To 10 A Day

Nothing Like Fine Cigar, Declares Chicago Woman

BOSTON (AP) — Miss Rosemary O'Brien, red haired and blue eyed, sat across the dinner table in a Boston restaurant and said, "There's nothing like a fine cigar," as she put a panatela to her soft, full lips.

The reaction was immediate, but Miss O'Brien paid little attention.

"When you've been smoking cigars as I have for four years, you get accustomed to having other women look at you in disbelief," said Miss O'Brien.

"Strangely, women aren't as shocked as the men when I smoke my cigars in public. The men appear to be absolutely dumbfounded. In public I constantly hear one man whisper to another 'Do you see what I see?' "

Miss O'Brien, in her early 30s and a resident of Kenmore Avenue, Chicago, came to Boston as an unwanted delegate to the fourth annual national convention of the Cigar Smokers of America, meeting today and Saturday.

The national organization — made up of humidors in eight cities — would rather not have women as members.

Miss O'Brien is in the unique position of having helped found the Chicago Humidor and expand its membership to more than 160.

"What's wrong with women?" asked Miss OBrien, who stands 5 feet 5 and says she measures 37-26-35.

"I smoke up to 10 cigars a day and like to be with men who smoke cigars. A lot of women are now taking up cigar smoking."

Miss O'Brien says she started smoking cigars when she playfully took a puff of a cigar her date was smoking as they drove in a car.

"I enjoyed it," she said, "and I've been smoking cigars since that night four years ago."

Man's Arrested Who Fled From Pen 13 Years Ago

WHEELING (AP) — Ohio County authorities have arrested a Wheeling man who they say escaped from the Virginia Penitentiary 13 years ago.

He was identified as James Evan Marshall, 54, a garbage collector and auto repairman here since 1951.

Marshall, married just three months ago, used the alias of James Leigh while living here, authorities said.

He told sheriff's deputies he was convicted of second degree murder in Richmond, Va., in 1949 and served about one year of an 18-year sentence before escaping.

Marshall was identified by deputies from a photograph after he was served with papers in a civil suit. He was arrested Thursday.

The suit charges him with taking $7,000 from the garbage company where he worked.

Authorities said Marshall admitted the Richmond prison escape, but wouldn't say how he got out. "I might have another chance," he told newsmen.

Prison officials plan to return him to Richmond.

Huntley and Brinkley had New York's Sen. Kenneth Keating leading his delegation out of the Cow Palace in high dudgeon and revolt, when actually the senator and company only were going down the hall to caucus.

Normally a reporter committing an error like this would be sentenced to six months of writing obituaries, but in television the viewers and the management believe errings is not only human, but amusing. Ed Sullivan's 15 years on the medium prove this TV adage.

We can assume that CBS already has had its architect borrow plans from NBC on how to construct a desk with dual seating indentations and that Trout will face Mudd (and vice versa) at approximately a 120-degree angle.

UNFORTUNATELY, Trout and Mudd haven't had much opportunity to test their tandem act. Unless CBS has conducted some sub - rosa rehearsals, no one really knows if they can play off each other's personalities with the proper balance and rapport.

CBS was so anxious to dump Cronkite, one wonders if the brass making that decision has even bothered to decide if Trout should say "Good night, Roger" first, or if it would play better for Mudd to first say, "Good night, Bob."

THE MOST AVID viewer of CBS' Trout and Mudd team next week will be, of course, Cronkite. He will be watching the Nielsen and ARB overnight rating figures as tensely as a Wall Street bear pours over the ticker tape after a new war scare.

If Trout and Mudd look as if they are winning over Huntley and Brinkley, nobody knows better than Cronkite that his current week-night newscasting job will be as permanent as that of a vice president at a company where the president has just brought his only son into the business.

In that case Cronkite will have to look around for somebody to say good night to besides his wife and kids.

Hunt Continues For Girl Now Missing For 2 Days

CINCINNATI (AP) — "We're running down the leads—any leads we get—but right now none of them have worked out," the weary desk man at suburban Fairfax police station said early today as the search continued for little Debbie Dappen.

Debbie, a four-year-old with her brown hair in a pixie-like cut, has been missing since she went out to play after lunch Wednesday.

Hundreds of volunteers scoured both Fairfax and neighboring Madisonville Wednesday night and until Thursday afternoon when village Mayor Ronald G. Cribbet dismissed them with thanks.

"What we're afraid of is that it was some sex pervert—or maybe some lady who's not right in her mind, some lady with no children of her own . . . No, that's what we're hoping for," said the deskman, patrolman Joe Berling, who had had four hours' sleep since Mrs. Rosemary Dappen, 28, first turned in an alarm late Wednesday afternoon.

Berling said there was a possibility Debbie had been kidnaped, but added that this was regarded as slight by police because "there are no rich families in Fairfax. If someone wanted to kidnap a child for ransom, he'd go to some other suburb, where the rich people live."

Debbie's father, Karl L. Dappen, 32, works for the American Automobile Association and he held a news conference in the Municipal Building after almost 30 hours of anxious waiting, pleading for his youngest child's return.

"I plead to you as a father—to anyone who has Debbie, please return her . . . return her safely . . . so the family might be whole again," Dappen spoke into the television cameras. "She is just a little four-year-old girl."

The Dappens also have a son, Kenneth Lee, 8.

Dappen and his wife say Debbie was not a child who wandered far from home. When she was reported missing, the search first centered on the area between the Dappens' white frame home and the house of Dappen's father a few blocks away.

Several people who knew Debbie told police they had seen her at various places around Fairfax, a quiet village of 2,500 at the eastern outskirts of Cincinnati. None of these leads brought any results.

Great Lakes Region Suffers Multi-Million Dollar Thirst

CHICAGO (AP) — The prosperous Great Lakes region, playland and workland of the Midwest, is suffering a multi-million-dollar thirst. Water levels are at record lows.

The lack of water, attributed to subnormal precipitation since 1960, has boosted the cost of shipping, reduced property values, and killed off wildlife and fishing.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers recently added to the gloom when it predicted that water levels would continue to drop at least until 1965. The engineers said only Lake Superior will not be drastically affected.

Water levels dipped sharply this summer. Lakes Michigan and Huron now have their lowest levels since records were started in 1860, and Lakes Ontario and Erie levels are close to 30-year-old records.

The problems caused by lower water levels are painfully obvious to tourists and lakeside dwellers. Beaches are longer — often it's a challenge to wade into water deep enough for swimming — and docks and piers are exposed to rot and decay.

Receding shore lines have ruined thousands of acres that once were natural habitats for wildfowl. Game officials say the whole wildlife chain has been disrupted in the Great Lakes.

Higher rates have lost some shipping business.

Corn from Iowa and Illinois no longer is shipped on the Great Lakes. Now it is diverted to New Orleans and other Gulf of Mexico ports.

Albert J. Meserow of Chicago, head of the Great Lakes Commission, estimates the loss to shipping and recreational interests this year will total about $100 million.

Compromise Bill Includes Funds For Ohio Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent a compromise military construction bill to the White House Thursday containing appropriations for Ohio Air Force bases.

In the compromise bill, Newark Air Force Station in Licking County receives $3,205,000 and Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton receives $5,542,000.

Originally, the Senate Committee had approved $3,269,000 for the Newark base, and $5,948,000 for Wright - Patterson. The House Committee had originally approved only $2,405,000 for Newark, and had approved the same amount for Wright-Patterson as in the compromise bill.

The final appropriations were determined in the compromise bill after conferences between the Senate and House committees.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four area United Auto Workers local unions authorized strikes to back up national contract negotiations.

Voting overwhelmingly to strike if negotiations with the big three auto dealers are unsuccessful were locals at the Ford Motor Co. stamping plant in Walton Hills, the Fisher Body Coit Road plant, the General Motors Euclid Road Division in Euclid and the General Motors Ternstedt Division in Elyria. The UAW's contract expires at midnight, Aug. 31, for more than 500,000 members.

Over Half Of A-Subs End Launching Tests

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — More than half the Polaris missile submarines in a planned fleet of 41 have completed launching exercises.

The Tecumseh Thursday became the 21st sub to conclude test and training firings when it launched a Polaris A3 missile while submerged off Cape Kennedy. The rocket propelled a warhead section to a target area more than 2,000 miles away.

Hunt Continues For Girl Now Missing For 2 Days

CINCINNATI (AP) — "We're running down the leads—any leads we get—but right now none of them have worked out," the weary desk man at suburban Fairfax police station said early today as the search continued for little Debbie Dappen.

Debbie, a four-year-old with her brown hair in a pixie-like cut, has been missing since she went out to play after lunch Wednesday.

Hundreds of volunteers scoured both Fairfax and neighboring Madisonville Wednesday night and until Thursday afternoon when village Mayor Ronald G. Cribbet dismissed them with thanks.

"What we're afraid of is that it was some sex pervert—or maybe some lady who's not right in her mind, some lady with no children of her own . . . No, that's what we're hoping for," said the deskman, patrolman Joe Berling, who had had four hours' sleep since Mrs. Rosemary Dappen, 28, first turned in an alarm late Wednesday afternoon.

Berling said there was a possibility Debbie had been kidnaped, but added that this was regarded as slight by police because "there are no rich families in Fairfax. If someone wanted to kidnap a child for ransom, he'd go to some other suburb, where the rich people live."

Debbie's father, Karl L. Dappen, 32, works for the American Automobile Association and he held a news conference in the Municipal Building after almost 30 hours of anxious waiting, pleading for his youngest child's return.

"I plead to you as a father—to anyone who has Debbie, please return her . . . return her safely . . . so the family might be whole again," Dappen spoke into the television cameras. "She is just a little four-year-old girl."

The Dappens also have a son, Kenneth Lee, 8.

Dappen and his wife say Debbie was not a child who wandered far from home. When she was reported missing, the search first centered on the area between the Dappens' white frame home and the house of Dappen's father a few blocks away.

Several people who knew Debbie told police they had seen her at various places around Fairfax, a quiet village of 2,500 at the eastern outskirts of Cincinnati. None of these leads brought any results.

Great Lakes Region Suffers Multi-Million Dollar Thirst

CHICAGO (AP) — The prosperous Great Lakes region, playland and workland of the Midwest, is suffering a multi-million-dollar thirst. Water levels are at record lows.

The lack of water, attributed to subnormal precipitation since 1960, has boosted the cost of shipping, reduced property values, and killed off wildlife and fishing.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers recently added to the gloom when it predicted that water levels would continue to drop at least until 1965. The engineers said only Lake Superior will not be drastically affected.

Water levels dipped sharply this summer. Lakes Michigan and Huron now have their lowest levels since records were started in 1860, and Lakes Ontario and Erie levels are close to 30-year-old records.

The problems caused by lower water levels are painfully obvious to tourists and lakeside dwellers. Beaches are longer — often it's a challenge to wade into water deep enough for swimming — and docks and piers are exposed to rot and decay.

Receding shore lines have ruined thousands of acres that once were natural habitats for wildfowl. Game officials say the whole wildlife chain has been disrupted in the Great Lakes.

Higher rates have lost some shipping business.

Corn from Iowa and Illinois no longer is shipped on the Great Lakes. Now it is diverted to New Orleans and other Gulf of Mexico ports.

Albert J. Meserow of Chicago, head of the Great Lakes Commission, estimates the loss to shipping and recreational interests this year will total about $100 million.

Compromise Bill Includes Funds For Ohio Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent a compromise military construction bill to the White House Thursday containing appropriations for Ohio Air Force bases.

In the compromise bill, Newark Air Force Station in Licking County receives $3,205,000 and Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton receives $5,542,000.

Originally, the Senate Committee had approved $3,269,000 for the Newark base, and $5,948,000 for Wright - Patterson. The House Committee had originally approved only $2,405,000 for Newark, and had approved the same amount for Wright-Patterson as in the compromise bill.

The final appropriations were determined in the compromise bill after conferences between the Senate and House committees.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is no gag. I'm dead serious and I need some help. I look like Marlon Brando and it's ruining my life.

I'm 30 years old, happily married and the father of three children. I'm a steady church goer.

The girl who runs the elevator in this building takes me down to the basement, pushes the stop button and tries to get friendly. The baby sitter keeps asking me to kiss her good night when I drive her home because I am so "mature" and she is sick of high school boys.

When I stop at a lunch counter, women come over and ask for my autograph. I tell them they are mistaken but they sit down anyway and want to get acquainted.

Yesterday my wife saw me having a cup of coffee with a beautiful young girl from the office who has been making a pest of herself lately. I may be in a little trouble at home. Please give me some help — CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Dear Case: Why don't you arm yourself with a whip and a chair — or wear gogles and a Beatle wig?

A 30-year-old married man who doesn't want to get mixed up with dames knows how to steer clear without any help from me, so put that show on the road, Dad.

Independent Fiance

Dear Ann: There are five children in our family and I'm the last to be married. Father is not wealthy, but he has provided well for us and is extremely generous.

When my brothers and sisters married he gave each a sum of money to help them get started. The oldest brother used his money to return to college for a master's degree. The second brother made a down payment on a beautiful bungalow. My sisters bought furniture.

The problem is my fiance. He does not believe in accepting money from parents. I have great respect for his spirit of independence, but I also feel I'm entitled to the same amount my brothers and sisters received.

Will you give us your opinion? — NO ORPHAN ME.

Dear No Orphan You: It seems clear these sums of money have been wedding gifts. Your fiance should not insult your father by refusing to accept such a gift.

After marriage, however, your fiance would be perfectly justified if he refused to accept money from your father. And I say more power to him.

Truth Comes Out

Dear Ann: I'll make it short and sweet. I'm a liar. I met this dreamy guy a few months ago at a resort. I told him I was a high school junior. The truth is I'm only a freshman. He was in college and I was dying to make a hit with him. I thought it would help if he believed I was a junior.

He is coming to this city in a few weeks and I'm afraid he will find out the truth.

Should I tell him I was sick in the hospital for two years? Or would it be better if I told him my folks took me on a trip around the world and I missed a lot of school?

I will straighten out the lie about my age later. I said I was 17 and I'm really 15. Right now I want to square this thing about being two years behind in school. The truth is I'm right where I ought to be. — HEAP BIG TROUBLES.

That's the trouble with a lie — you usually have to tell six more to cover up the first one. Confess that you fibbed because you wanted to impress him and do it promptly before someone beats you to it. Tell him from now on you're going to play it straight. And for heaven's sake DO it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your pboblems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hawaii Celebrates Its 5th Year As U.S. State

HONOLULU (AP) — Coconut trees have given way to concrete but the ocean remains blue and skies sunny as Hawaii celebrates its fifth year as a state.

Hawaii's business and government leaders are excited by the rapid growth of the past five years and speak optimistically about the promise of the future. But others grumble in despair at the high cost of such progress. Some complain that the 50th state is changing in ways that would destroy it.

Hawaii, said author Philip Wylie, may soon become a "jammed up shambles of hives for human beings, interrupted by petrochemical complexes, bowling alley monstrosities, city dumps and rocket launching pads."

But officials say such critics may be seeing only the romantic side — the fabled Polynesia that cannot exist in this day and age.

They cite a Hawaii Visitors Bureau prediction that 500,000 tourists will flock to the 50th state this year, spending $221 million. And there must be hotels to house them.

By contrast, five years ago there were less than half as many visitors — 243,000 — and tourist income was $109 million.

Honolulu Mayor Neal S. Blaisdell cited improvement in communications with Washington, D.C., through direct representation in Congress as a big step forward.

In addition to political representation, pineapples, sugar, Waikiki Beach, vital military installations, and active volcanoes, the state maintains comparative racial harmony.

Auto Insurance Aide Speaks For Kiwanis Club Program

R. Wade Norris, personnel and public relations manager in Canton for the Northern Ohio regional office of the Nationwide Insurance Co., discussed aspects of automobile insurance at Thursday noon's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Travelers Hotel. Thirty attended.

Appearing under the auspices of the Ohio Insurance Information Service, Inc., a non-profit, public service organization sponsored by 25 Ohio fire and casualty insurance companies, Norris said that personal financial security along with automobile financing could not exist without automobile insurance.

"If auto insurance were suddenly done away with, our nation's court system would have to be almost completely revamped," he declared.

He related that auto insurance rates are determined on a county or city basis mainly by the severity and frequency of car accidents, plus medical costs, in that specific area. The price of the car, court costs and driving experience also figure in the rate setting, he said.

He pointed out that while the rate for a certain kind of auto liability insurance in Columbiana County is $55, it's $85 in Cuyahoga County and $47 in Jefferson.

Norris indicated that insurance rates are in a constant upward spiral due to the ever-increasing severity and frequency of accidents. While accidents numbered over 1,500 in Columbiana County in 1961, they were over 1,700 last year.

He said national insurance officials see no leveling off of the climbing accident or insurance rates. Several have tried methods to hold down the frequency of car accidents but have met with no success.

J. N. Nicely, president, reminded members of the family picnic to be held Wednesday at the Vagabond Lodge. He said there are 53 reservations with more expected.

Nicely announced that Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Democrat, will address the club at the luncheon meeting Oct. 22. He said he is attempting to obtain a speaker from the local Republican Party for another October meeting. Glenn Wilson was chairman.

James Walker, regular program chairman, said a general roundtable discussion of Kiwanis activities will be held at next week's meeting.

R. Wade Norris, personnel and public relations manager in Canton for the Northern Ohio regional office of the Nationwide Insurance Co., discussed aspects of automobile insurance at Thursday noon's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Travelers Hotel. Thirty attended.

Appearing under the auspices of the Ohio Insurance Information Service, Inc., a non-profit, public service organization sponsored by 25 Ohio fire and casualty insurance companies, Norris said that personal financial security along with automobile financing could not exist without automobile insurance.

"If auto insurance were suddenly done away with, our nation's court system would have to be almost completely revamped," he declared.

He related that auto insurance rates are determined on a county or city basis mainly by the severity and frequency of car accidents, plus medical costs, in that specific area. The price of the car, court costs and driving experience also figure in the rate setting, he said.

He pointed out that while the rate for a certain kind of auto liability insurance in Columbiana County is $55, it's $85 in Cuyahoga County and $47 in Jefferson.

Norris indicated that insurance rates are in a constant upward spiral due to the ever-increasing severity and frequency of accidents. While accidents numbered over 1,500 in Columbiana County in 1961, they were over 1,700 last year.

He said national insurance officials see no leveling off of the climbing accident or insurance rates. Several have tried methods to hold down the frequency of car accidents but have met with no success.

J. N. Nicely, president, reminded members of the family picnic to be held Wednesday at the Vagabond Lodge. He said there are 53 reservations with more expected.

Nicely announced that Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Democrat, will address the club at the luncheon meeting Oct. 22. He said he is attempting to obtain a speaker from the local Republican Party for another October meeting. Glenn Wilson was chairman.

James Walker, regular program chairman, said a general roundtable discussion of Kiwanis activities will be held at next week's meeting.

Pigskin Time Again . . .

5 Lettermen On Hand . . .

EAST Liverpool has a new pilot this season in Bob McNea, who is returning to the high school scene after spending the last six years in the college ranks at Northwestern and Kent State.

McNea announced earlier this week that all of his practice sessions will be closed to the public this season.

Forty-four varsity players were on hand this morning to greet McNea and this does not include 23 sophomores which make up the reserve unit for a total of 67 boys reporting for football here.

Two-a-day drills are scheduled for the varsity and reserve squads. The varsity went through drills from 8 to 10 this morning and will return for a second session from 6 to 8 p. m. Meanwhile the reserves practice between the varsity drills.

McNea has exactly four weeks to round the Potters into playing shape. East Liverpool will open its season Sept. 12 with Beaver Local.

The Press Box . . .

This portion of today's column has been turned over to our colleague Chuck Cronin who offers the following observation.

If the Wellsville Jaycees fulfill their promise to build a new press box at Nicholson Stadium, they will have the heartfelt thanks of all who must use the facilities.

The dir unattractive shelter for newspaper writers, radio announcers and officials has, without a doubt, made more enemies than friends for the school in the past decade.

When Nicholson Stadium was built as a PWA project in the depression of the 1930's, the press box was probably as clean and attractive as any in the area. But the ravage of time and weather, and little maintenance to speak of, have taken their toll.

To those whose jobs require their presence in the press box on game nights, the familiar shelter atop the concrete rim on the visitors' side of the stadium has become an object of scorn.

It has done little to extol the virtues of the school or city in general, especially from the standpoint of first impressions by out-of-town writers, radio announcers and officials.

Generally speaking, sportswriters and sportscasters aren't the hardest people in the world to accommodate when it comes to providing a place to cover the game. But even the most placid have lost their tempers at the Nicholson Stadium press box.

Grumbling over space —or rather the lack of it— has become traditional on Friday nights in the press box when the Tigers play at home.

The press box has indeed outlived its usefulness. The problems it creates have been discussed for roughly two years by those in a position to do something about it, but as yet nothing has been done.

If the Jaycees tackle the press box project with the same enthusiasm they have shown on other civic projects, the grid season just around the corner no doubt will be more of a pleasure for newsmen and press box officials alike.

Frankie, Johnny Weren't Lovers To The Pirates

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The hand-me-down and the All-Star hero sat quietly in the Philadelphia dressing room.

"It's always a thrill to hit a home run," said Frank Thomas.

What Thomas and Callison did was supply all the runs as the Phillies swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 2-0 and 3-2 Thursday night and shot into a commanding 7½-game lead in the National League pennant race.

Thomas, acquired from the New York Mets recently, took care of the opener with a two-run homer in the ninth inning that won it for Art Mahaffey, who posted his first complete game since May 27 by checking the Pirates on two hits.

Callison, who won the All-Star game for the National League, took over in the second game, tying it 1-1 with his 21st homer in the sixth inning, then lashing a long sacrifice fly in the eighth inning that drove in two runs.

Trailing 3-1, the Pirates got a run back in the ninth on a single by Smoky Burgess and Bill Mazeroski's double, but Callison came through again. He grabbed Jerry Lynch's fly ball and cut down Mazeroski, trying to advance to third. That ended the threat.

The twin triumphs, coupled with Cincinnati's 14-7 victory over slipping San Francisco, added 1½ games to the Phillies' lead. The Reds, meanwhile, pulled into a tie for second with the Giants by winning their fourth straight while San Francisco lost its fifth in a row.

In the only other NL game scheduled, Denis Menke drove in three runs and Hank Aaron stroked four hits as Milwaukee belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2.

Mahaffey, bringing his record to 13-6, won his duel with Bob Friend, 20-13, in the opener when Thomas homered after a single by Clay Dalrymple. Mahaffey did not allow a hit until Mazeroski singled with one out in the seventh. Roberto Clemente's ninth inning single was the only other hit.

In the nightcap, Bob Bailey put the Pirates ahead 1-0 with a third inning homer off Rick Wise. Callison then tagged Don Schwall with the loss. Wise, a rookie, needed Ed Roebuck's help in the ninth inning but won his fifth game in six decisions.

The Giants led the Reds 4-3 until Deron Johnson slammed a bases-empty homer in the seventh inning. The Reds then broke it open in the eighth inning with a six-run spurt, scoring the go-ahead run when Ron Herbel issued a bases-loaded walk to Tommy Harper.

Vada Pinson followed with a two-run single. Frank Robinson singled across another run. Pinson scored on Johnson's grounder and Robinson came across on Don Pavletich's sacrifice fly.

Besides Johnson, Robinson and Leo Cardenas homered for the Reds while Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Del Crandall connected for the Giants. Mays' homer was his 38th.

The Braves collected 16 hits while Bob Sadowski held the Dodgers to seven hits. Milwaukee managed only three singles in the first four innings, then tagged Joe Moeller and Bob Miller for five extra base hits and five runs in the fifth and sixth.

Chisox Sweep Yanks To Take 1st: Orioles Lose Lead And Powell

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"A bitter blow," moaned Hank Bauer.

Those were the reactions Thursday of three American League managers following a pair of games that left Chicago in first place, Baltimore without Boog Powell and New York struggling for air.

Lopez' White Sox replaced the Orioles in first place, blanking New York 5-0 for their fifth straight victory and the Yankees' fourth consecutive defeat. The Orioles' 4-3 loss to Boston dropped Bauer's boys one-half game behind the White Sox.

Chicago's vault to the top made Lopez' 56th birthday a happy one, but for Bauer and Powell there was no celebration.

Forgetting 31 homers and 80 runs batted in undoubtedly will be difficult. Getting a replacement will be even tougher.

The White Sox, on the other hand, are playing possibly their best ball of the season. After dropping their first 10 games with the Yankees, the Sox turned around and grabbed six of the last eight, including a sweep of this week's four-game series.

Then there's Berra, who is counting on the eight games the top two teams must play with each other. The first of four games in Chicago is on for tonight.

The tension, meanwhile might be getting to the Yankees. Berra and infielder Phil Linz became engaged in a heated row over Linz' harmonica playing in the team bus following the latest defeat. Yankee Coach Frank Crosetti called the incident the worst he's seen in his 33 years with the team.

Back on the field, Los Angeles edged Detroit 4-3 and Kansas City defeated Cleveland 7-4 in other AL games.

The White Sox shelled Whitey Ford from the mound en route to their victory. The Yankee hurler, making his first start since Aug. 8, lasted only into the fourth inning as Chicago rapped him for nine hits.

Their two runs in the second inning, the second coming on pitcher John Buzhardt's squeeze bunt, marked their first earned runs off Ford in 46 innings.

Bob Tillman's two-run homer highlighted a four-run second inning that carried the Red Sox past the Orioles. Frank Malzone's single preceded Tillman's blast off Dave Vineyard. Pitcher Dave Morehead then doubled on the play on which Powell was hurt.

Detroit's Dennis McLain held the Angels to two hits through six innings, but his throwing error on a grounder hit by Felix Torres helped a four-run Los Angeles rally in the seventh. Bob Rodgers scored the tying run on the wild toss. Lou Clinton followed with a run-scoring single off reliever Julio Navarro.

Rocky Colavito and Doc Edwards' lashed two-run singles in the eighth inning, lifting the Athletics over the Indians. Cleveland had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh on Woodie Held's run-scoring double.

Palmer Fires 2-Under 68, Leads By Stroke At Akron

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

That's one of the reasons for Palmer's consistent success at the Firestone Country Club where he grabbed the first round lead Thursday in the $50,000 American Golf Classic with a two under par 34-34 — 68.

"I like playing the course," said Palmer. "It's one of my favorites. It's narrow, long and offers a pretty good test of golf."

Palmer's 68, which included three birdies and one bogey over the 7,165-yard layout, was fashioned with a new putter. And Firestone played longer than usual because of heavy rains which lasted through mid-afternoon.

Someone told Palmer — who finished fourth in the first Classic three years ago, won it in 1962 and was second last year — that his new putter resembled an old heel.

Palmer held a one-stroke lead over British Open champion Tony Lema, who had a 34-35 — 69 and was the only other player to better par.

Matching par were Ed Griffiths, Tom Weiskopf, Harold Kneece, Bill Collins and Mason Rudolph. U. S. Open champion Ken Venturi remained a strong contender with a one-over-par 71 but several other top stars, including PGA champion Bobby Nichols who had a 75, were down the list.

Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner who could go over the $100,000 mark for the year by finishing first or second in the Classic, shot a 37-36 — 73 without nailing a birdie. Gary Player, returning to the tournament trail, had a 40-35 — 75.

Baltimore Next Test For Chicago

Baltimore comes in for a four-game series trailing the Sox in the American league race by three percentage points, .615 to .612.

Both Baltimore and the White Sox have finished their season business with the Yankees, who have dropped 4½ games off the pace and have a four-game losing string to match their longest of the year.

The Sox lost their first 10 games with the Yankees. Their four-game sweep — the first such over New York since Al Lopez has been piloting Chicago — left them on the short side of a 12-6 count for the season.

"I've been in baseball 40 years and no series has given me more satisfaction than the one we've just taken from the Yankees," said Lopez.

"We're all through with the Orioles and White Sox," he said. "But they still have to play each other eight times in the next 10 days. If we can win while they knock each other off, we'll be right up near the top again."

Baltimore Next Test For Chicago

Baltimore comes in for a four-game series trailing the Sox in the American league race by three percentage points, .615 to .612.

The Sox reached the top by one-half game, blanking the Yankees 5-0 Thursday to sweep their four-game set while Boston edged the Orioles 4-3.

Chicago reclaimed the league lead for the first time since June 18 with a five-game winning streak.

Both Baltimore and the White Sox have finished their season business with the Yankees, who have dropped 4½ games off the pace and have a four-game losing string to match their longest of the year.

The Sox lost their first 10 games with the Yankees. Their four-game sweep — the first such over New York since Al Lopez has been piloting Chicago — left them on the short side of a 12-6 count for the season.

"I've been in baseball 40 years and no series has given me more satisfaction than the one we've just taken from the Yankees," said Lopez.

"We're all through with the Orioles and White Sox," he said. "But they still have to play each other eight times in the next 10 days. If we can win while they knock each other off, we'll be right up near the top again."

Frankie, Johnny Weren't Lovers To The Pirates

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The hand-me-down and the All-Star hero sat quietly in the Philadelphia dressing room.

"It's always a thrill to hit a home run," said Frank Thomas.

"It's about time I did something good for a change," said Johnny Callison.

What Thomas and Callison did was supply all the runs as the Phillies swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 2-0 and 3-2 Thursday night and shot into a commanding 7½-game lead in the National League pennant race.

Thomas, acquired from the New York Mets recently, took care of the opener with a two-run homer in the ninth inning that won it for Art Mahaffey, who posted his first complete game since May 27 by checking the Pirates on two hits.

Callison, who won the All-Star game for the National League, took over in the second game, tying it 1-1 with his 21st homer in the sixth inning, then lashing a long sacrifice fly in the eighth inning that drove in two runs.

Trailing 3-1, the Pirates got a run back in the ninth on a single by Smoky Burgess and Bill Mazeroski's double, but Callison came through again. He grabbed Jerry Lynch's fly ball and cut down Mazeroski, trying to advance to third. That ended the threat.

The twin triumphs, coupled with Cincinnati's 10-7 victory over slipping San Francisco, added 1½ games to the Phillies' lead. The Reds, meanwhile, pulled into a tie for second with the Giants by winning their fourth straight while San Francisco lost its fifth in a row.

In the only other NL game scheduled, Denis Menke drove in three runs and Hank Aaron stroked four hits as Milwaukee belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2.

Mahaffey, bringing his record to 11-6, won his duel with Bob Friend, 10-13, in the opener when Thomas homered after a single by Clay Dalrymple. Mahaffey did not allow a hit until Mazeroski singled with one out in the seventh. Roberto Clemente's ninth inning single was the only other hit.

In the nightcap, Bob Bailey put the Pirates ahead 1-0 with a third inning homer off Rick Wise. Callison then tagged Don Schwall with the loss. Wise, a rookie, needed Ed Roebuck's help in the ninth inning but won his fifth game in six decisions.

The Giants led the Reds 4-3 until Deron Johnson slammed a bases-empty homer in the seventh inning. The Reds then broke it open in the eighth inning with a six-run spurt, scoring the go-ahead run when Ron Herbel issued a bases-loaded walk to Tommy Harper.

Vada Pinson followed with a two-run single. Frank Robinson singled across another run, Pinson scored on Johnson's grounder and Robinson came across on Don Pavletich's sacrifice fly.

Besides Johnson, Robinson and Leo Cardenas homered for the Reds while Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Del Crandall connected for the Giants. Mays' homer was his 38th.

The Braves collected 16 hits while Bob Sadowski held the Dodgers to seven hits. Milwaukee managed only three singles in the first four innings, then tagged Joe Moeller and Bob Miller for five extra base hits and five runs in the fifth and sixth.

Ron Fairly's homer accounted for both Dodger runs.

Last TV Bout From Garden On Tonight

By The Associated Press

Light heavyweights Johnny Persol of New York and Henry Hank of Detroit meet in a 10-rounder tonight that marks the last of the television fights from Madison Square Garden.

After that there will be three more Friday night TV fights in other sites, winding up with the middleweight clash between ex-champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Rocky Rivero of Argentina in Cleveland.

On Sept. 11 the curtain will ring down on television's longest continuous network show — a 20-year run. In the first one Willie Pep outpointed Chalky Wright in a featherweight title bout at the Garden Sept. 29, 1944.

Some title bouts may be shown on home television on a special basis but the heavyweight title fights and other top matches probably will go to closed circuit theater television.

Persol, the fifth-ranking contender, is a 2-1 favorite over the former high-ranking middleweight who has stepped up to the 175-pound clsss.

The 24-year-old New Yorker has a 12-1 record. Hank's record is 56-19-8, including 37 knockouts. Persol has only three knockouts to his credit but he is considered a good puncher.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 9 p.m., EST. Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Tunney's Grandson In Critical Condition

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — The 10-day old grandson of former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney is in critical condition at St. Bernardine's Hospital following heart surgery.

Mark Andrew Tunney was born to Mr. and Mrs. John V. Tunney. The father is a Riverside, Calif., attorney and Democratic candidate for Congress from the 38th District.

65th Shoot Opens Today At Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—More than a million shotgun shells will be exploded along the three-quarter mile firing line in the 65th Grand American Trapshoot which opened here today.

The field for the classic which continues through nine days includes shooters from all 50 states and Canada. A field close to 2,600 is expected to go for the top prize, the Grand American Handicap, on Aug. 28.

Preliminary firing was on tap the first three days until Monday when the championships get under way with titles to be decided at 16 yards in handicap and doubles.

Last year Albert Kees of Richmond, Ind., broke 100 straight in winning the big handicap, the only perfect score in the event's 65-year history. He picked up about $8,000 in defeating a field of 2,527.

'The Chinese Bandits,' Paul Dietzel Says

By PAUL F. DIETZEL
For The Associated Press

Our defensive group practiced on another field with all the rocks and brambles, and we were not allowed to associate with the "name athletes."

Just for fun I cut out a clipping which called the Chinese bandits the meanest and most vicious people in the world. This was a quote from Chopstick Joe, a very illustrious character drawn by Ohioan Milt Caniff in "Terry and the Pirates." We decided to be known as the Chinese Bandits.

In 1958 at Louisiana State we found we did not have enough athletes to play two two - way teams. However, we felt that if we could play one team both ways, and platoon what was left offensively and defensively, we might get by.

We picked our 11 best athletes, and they were our starting unit, or "white" team. From what was left after that, we picked the 11 best offensive players and they became known as the "go team" (an abbreviation of gold team). The teams were so named because the colors we wore in games were white and gold.

From what was left over we selected 11 defensive players. It was very natural that these would be the Chinese Bandits. Our squad wondered "what in the world is this Chinese Bandit routine?"

We tried the system in our opening game with Rice, and it worked out perfectly. In the next game the Bandits stopped Alabama, making them kick a field goal, and the Chinese were on their way.

Next, a disc jockey sent a Chinese chant which was played at the games. A local restaurateur donated 2,000 coolie hats to the first 2,000 who asked for them, and he was so swamped he had to order 3,000 more.

The band played the Chinese chant each time the Bandits went in, and the fans waved their coolie hats as they cheered. The Bandits were now made.

They wanted to eat by themselves in the mess hall, and wear some kind of special emblem on their uniform. They really were not that good—but they did not know it. They actually played like wild men, and demonstrated the best gang tackling and pursuit I have ever seen.

As the season progressed they got steadily stronger and stronger. Throughout the year they allowed less than a yard per carry, while our starting team allowed almost three yards per carry.

Getting ready for the Sugar Bowl game, we pitted our three teams against each other—and the Bandits tore the other two limb from limb.

Our starting team and the "go" team were anxious to repeat the drill the next day, but if we had it would have been a much more vicious game than we could possibly have in the bowl, so we saw that it never came to pass.

The remarkable thing was that the so-called "third-stringers" had become the superior team—at least for that day.

Twin Victory Puts Phils In Front Of Pack By 7½

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies won a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night, increasing their National League lead to 7½ games. But batting heroes Johnny Callison and Frank Thomas shrugged off their roles as just another day's work.

And Art Mahaffey, who pitched a two-hitter to win the opener 2-0, said he knew right from the start he had good stuff.

"It's about time I did something good for a change," said Callison, who drove in all three Phillie runs as they won the second game, 3-2.

"It's always a thrill to hit a home run," said Thomas.

And in keeping with the low-key atmosphere in the Phillies' dressing room, Manager Gene Mauch declined to praise either Callison, Thomas or Mahaffey, saying simply, "I'm glad I've got two dozen great ball players."

The twin victory boosted the Phillies National League lead to 7½ games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds climbed to a second place tie Thursday defeating the Giants 10-7.

Last TV Bout From Garden On Tonight

By The Associated Press

Boxing, once shown five nights a week on network television, heads towards a final fadeout on a regular basis for living room fans tonight.

Light heavyweights Johnny Persol of New York and Henry Hank of Detroit meet in a 10-rounder tonight that marks the last of the television fights from Madison Square Garden.

After that there will be three more Friday night TV fights in other sites, winding up with the middleweight clash between ex-champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Rocky Rivero of Argentina in Cleveland.

On Sept. 11 the curtain will ring down on television's longest continuous network show — a 20-year run. In the first one Willie Pep outpointed Chalky Wright in a featherweight title bout at the Garden Sept. 29, 1944.

Some title bouts may be shown on home television on a special basis but the heavyweight title fights and other top matches probably will go to closed circuit theater television.

Persol, the fifth-ranking contender, is a 2-1 favorite over the former high-ranking middleweight who has stepped up to the 175-pound clsss.

The 24-year-old New Yorker has a 12-1 record. Hank's record is 56-19-8, including 37 knockouts. Persol has only three knockouts to his credit but he is considered a good puncher.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 9 p.m., EST. Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Tunney's Grandson In Critical Condition

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — The 10-day old grandson of former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney is in critical condition at St. Bernardine's Hospital following heart surgery.

Mark Andrew Tunney was born to Mr. and Mrs. John V. Tunney. The father is a Riverside, Calif., attorney and Democratic candidate for Congress from the 38th District.

65th Shoot Opens Today At Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—More than a million shotgun shells will be exploded along the three-quarter mile firing line in the 65th Grand American Trapshoot which opened here today.

The field for the classic which continues through nine days includes shooters from all 50 states and Canada. A field close to 2,600 is expected to go for the top prize, the Grand American Handicap, on Aug. 28.

Preliminary firing was on tap the first three days until Monday when the championships get under way with titles to be decided at 16 yards in handicap and doubles.

Last year Albert Kees of Richmond, Ind., broke 100 straight in winning the big handicap, the only perfect score in the event's 65-year history. He picked up about $8,000 in defeating a field of 2,527.

The unknowns get their chance in the preliminary handicaps in which the shooters are placed from 18 to 27 yards back.

'My Greatest Thrill'

'The Chinese Bandits,' Paul Dietzel Says

By PAUL F. DIETZEL
For The Associated Press

My greatest sports thrill is pretty easy to pin down.

The whole thing began many years ago in Cincinnati, where I was Sid Gillman's defensive line coach.

Our defensive group practiced on another field with all the rocks and brambles, and we were not allowed to associate with the "name athletes."

Just for fun I cut out a clipping which called the Chinese bandits the meanest and most vicious people in the world. This was a quote from Chopstick Joe, a very illustrious character drawn by Ohioan Milt Caniff in "Terry and the Pirates." We decided to be known as the Chinese Bandits.

In 1958 at Louisiana State we found we did not have enough athletes to play two two - way teams. However, we felt that if we could play one team both ways, and platoon what was left offensively and defensively, we might get by.

We picked our 11 best athletes, and they were our starting unit, or "white" team. From what was left after that, we picked the 11 best offensive players and they became known as the "go team" (an abbreviation of gold team). The teams were so named because the colors we wore in games were white and gold.

From what was left over we selected 11 defensive players. It was very natural that these would be the Chinese Bandits. Our squad wondered "what in the world is this Chinese Bandit routine?"

We tried the system in our opening game with Rice, and it worked out perfectly. In the next game the Bandits stopped Alabama, making them kick a field goal, and the Chinese were on their way.

Next, a disc jockey sent a Chinese chant which was played at the games. A local restaurateur donated 2,000 coolie hats to the first 2,000 who asked for them, and he was so swamped he had to order 3,000 more.

The band played the Chinese chant each time the Bandits went in, and the fans waved their coolie hats as they cheered. The Bandits were now made.

They wanted to eat by themselves in the mess hall, and wear some kind of special emblem on their uniform. They really were not that good—but they did not know it. They actually played like wild men, and demonstrated the best gang tackling and pursuit I have ever seen.

As the season progressed they got steadily stronger and stronger. Throughout the year they allowed less than a yard per carry, while our starting team allowed almost three yards per carry.

Getting ready for the Sugar Bowl game, we pitted our three teams against each other—and the Bandits tore the other two limb from limb.

Our starting team and the "go" team were anxious to repeat the drill the next day, but if we had it would have been a much more vicious game than we could possibly have in the bowl, so we saw that it never came to pass.

The remarkable thing was that the so-called "third-stringers" had become the superior team—at least for that day.

This was very thrilling because it showed what a group of young men with fierce determination and a heck of a lot of fun can do in a football game.

Twin Victory Puts Phils In Front Of Pack By 7½

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies won a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night, increasing their National League lead to 7½ games. But batting heroes Johnny Callison and Frank Thomas shrugged off their roles as just another day's work.

And Art Mahaffey, who pitched a two-hitter to win the opener 2-0, said he knew right from the start he had good stuff.

"It's about time I did something good for a change," said Callison, who drove in all three Phillie runs as they won the second game, 3-2.

Thomas' two-run homer in the ninth inning of the opener gave Mahaffey his 11th victory.

"It's always a thrill to hit a home run," said Thomas.

And in keeping with the low-key atmosphere in the Phillies' dressing room, Manager Gene Mauch declined to praise either Callison, Thomas or Mahaffey, saying simply, "I'm glad I've got two dozen great ball players."

The twin victory boosted the Phillies National League lead to 7½ games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds climbed to a second place tie Thursday defeating the Giants 10-7.

Vindicator Asks Injunction Against Picket Line Violence

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Publishers of the struck Youngstown Vindicator have asked common pleas court for a temporary injunction against alleged picket line violence.

The action was filed Thursday, and a hearing is set Saturday. The striking Local 11 of the American Newspaper Guild denied there has been any violence.

The Guild, representing 110 editorial, classified advertising and circulation employes, struck Tuesday night in a dispute over a new contract for circulation department employes. Other unions at the paper have not crossed picket lines and guild president Fred Kearney said close to 400 employes are idle.

A company spokesman said about 3,000 copies of an 8-page paper were sold over the counter Thursday and added "We intend to publish as long as we can."

Kearney said about 30 supervisory personnel are inside the building. The paper, Youngstown's only daily, normally publishes 102,000 copies daily and 159,000 on Sunday.

Kearney said there might be further negotiations Monday with federal mediator Hal Roach of Akron participating.

Last Of Big Hereford Herds In West Virginia To Be Sold

The Morlunda Farms at Lewisburg will dispose of over 1,000 head of purebred herefords Sept. 3-5, according to Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural agent.

Hillcrest Farms near Chester and Morlunda Farms brought a reputation to West Virginia for excellent Hereford breeding cattle. C. A. Smith's Hillcrest Farms had the finest Herefords east of the Mississippi River a few years ago.

"With the death of C. A. Smith, the breeding herd was put up for sale and brought over $1½ million. It was with regret that I read of the forthcoming complete disposal sale of the Morlunda farms Herefords," Johnson said.

The farm at Lewisburg has been owned and operated by the Oscar Nelsons, prominent industrial chemical figures in the Charleston area. Oscar Nelson Jr. continued the work of breeding Herefords for at least 10 years after the death of his father.

"The Smiths and the Nelsons didn't make their fortunes farming, but they did spend part of it developing Hereford cattle that would produce better and cheaper roasts and steaks. They were performing a real service to our country and mankind," Johnson said.

Who will take their place in the future? "Possibly government agencies and corporations will do more and more to create breeding stock that will make more gain in edible beef per pound of feed. And it may surprise some to learn that Curtiss Candy Co. and Carnation Milk Co. are in the livestock breeding service program," Johnson said.

Driver, 20, Charged In Traffic Fatality

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nickolas Rucella, 74, of Cleveland, died Thursday night at Lutheran Hospital, where he was taken Wednesday night after being injured in a traffic accident.

Police charged the driver of the other car, James C. Hamilton, 20, of Cleveland, with drunken driving. Police said if Ruccella's death is ruled due to his injuries, Hamilton faces additional charges.

Integration Comes Quietly To Jackson, Miss., Schools

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Desegregation came quietly to this capital city's public school system.

Forty-three Negro children signed up Thursday to attend first-grade classes in eight previously all - white elementary schools.

However, over-all registration was lower than expected.

At the all-Negro schools, only 567 first-graders registered although officials had forecast an enrollment of 1,800.

Registration of white pupils was also down, with 1,705 enrollments out of an expected 2,000.

School authorities and civil rights leaders said they had no explanation for the decrease.

With the four-hour registration period, Jackson — the state's largest city — became the second public school system in Mississippi to desegregate under federal court orders. Seventeen Negroes enrolled last week at formerly all-white schools at Biloxi.

Two other school systems face desegregation this fall. Leake County and Clarksdale will integrate first grade classes in September and Clarksdale will drop racial barriers in the second grade in February.

The Republic of Israel was created May 14, 1948.

Integration Comes Quietly To Jackson, Miss., Schools

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Desegregation came quietly to this capital city's public school system.

Forty-three Negro children signed up Thursday to attend first-grade classes in eight previously all - white elementary schools.

However, over-all registration was lower than expected.

At the all-Negro schools, only 567 first-graders registered although officials had forecast an enrollment of 1,800.

Registration of white pupils was also down, with 1,705 enrollments out of an expected 2,000.

School authorities and civil rights leaders said they had no explanation for the decrease.

With the four-hour registration period, Jackson — the state's largest city — became the second public school system in Mississippi to desegregate under federal court orders. Seventeen Negroes enrolled last week at formerly all-white schools at Biloxi.

Two other school systems face desegregation this fall. Leake County and Clarksdale will integrate first grade classes in September and Clarksdale will drop racial barriers in the second grade in February.

GASOLINE ALLEY

OFF THE RECORD

"How did your pinking shears get in here, dear?"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Please give me some tips on the cleaning of jewelry.

A. — A teaspoon of ammonia, added to a cup of water, and applied with a clean cloth, will clean gold and silver jewelry. Crystal beads strung on a chain that has tarnished may be renewed by placing in a wide-mouthed jar half - filled with warm mild suds to which a teaspoon of baking soda has been added. Shake occasionally, then dry in jewelers' sawdust.

Q. — How can I separate a number of postage stamps that have become stuck together?

A. — Don't soak them. Instead, lay a thin paper over them and run a moderately hot iron over the paper. They will then come apart easily, and the glue will still be usable.

Q. — How can I clean black lace?

A. — Put into alcohol, and churn up and down until the liquid foams. If the lace is very dusty, repeat the operation, squeezing the lace out, slapping between the hands, pulling out the edges, and then laying between brown paper smooth and straight. Leave under a weight until dry.

A. — How can I remedy small cracks in crockery?

A. — If a piece of crockery has a tiny crack in it, try boiling it in sweet milk. This usually restores its usefulness.

Q. — How can I remove smoke and grease stains from woodwork?

A. — By painting it with a solution of starch and water. After the solution has dried, rub it off with a soft brush or clean cloth. This also removes the stains. Woodwork treated in this manner doesn't harm the paint, and it stays good - looking for a very long time.

Q. — How can I restore hard and sugary jam to its original texture?

A. — Place the jam in the oven until the sugar melts, then remove and allow to cool.

A Junior Editors Quiz About STATUES

QUESTION: Who made the mysterious statues on Easter Island?

ANSWER: When, on Easter Sunday, 1722, Dutch Admiral Roggeveen found and named lonely Easter Island, he discovered a mystery as well. Standing upright in the ground were more than 600 huge statues, up to 49 feet tall, some estimated to weigh 70 tons. Who had made them? There was a quarry with some uncompleted statues showing how they had been moved and set upright? The mystery has been only partly dispelled. Most experts think they were made by early settlers who had migrated from the west (black arrows on map). Similarities have been found between these statues and other South Seas, stone work. They were carved, it is thought, to honor the dead. But why are they so huge?

In 1957 Thor Heyerdahl led an expedition to the island. He found a few natives who demonstrated how the statues could be moved: by prying up with long poles while walls of small stones were gradually built up from below. Most experts seem to feel that more needs to be found out before we can say definitely just who put up these remarkable statues, and why.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Please give me some tips on the cleaning of jewelry.

A. — A teaspoon of ammonia, added to a cup of water, and applied with a clean cloth, will clean gold and silver jewelry. Crystal beads strung on a chain that has tarnished may be renewed by placing in a wide-mouthed jar half - filled with warm mild suds to which a teaspoon of baking soda has been added. Shake occasionally, then dry in jewelers' sawdust.

Q. — How can I separate a number of postage stamps that have become stuck together?

A. — Don't soak them. Instead, lay a thin paper over them and run a moderately hot iron over the paper. They will then come apart easily, and the glue will still be usable.

Q. — How can I clean black lace?

A. — Put into alcohol, and churn up and down until the liquid foams. If the lace is very dusty, repeat the operation, squeezing the lace out, slapping between the hands, pulling out the edges, and then laying between brown paper smooth and straight. Leave under a weight until dry.

A. — How can I remedy small cracks in crockery?

A. — If a piece of crockery has a tiny crack in it, try boiling it in sweet milk. This usually restores its usefulness.

Q. — How can I remove smoke and grease stains from woodwork?

A. — By painting it with a solution of starch and water. After the solution has dried, rub it off with a soft brush or clean cloth. This also removes the stains. Woodwork treated in this manner doesn't harm the paint, and it stays good - looking for a very long time.

Q. — How can I restore hard and sugary jam to its original texture?

A. — Place the jam in the oven until the sugar melts, then remove and allow to cool.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is a hint that is well worth the time it takes.

Take two crib sheets and sew them together like a pillow case and slip it over the crib mattress.

MRS. A. J. McMULLEN.

Old sheets could be utilized this way too! Try making big, big pillowslips for that lightweight baby mattress!

And thanks, grandmother, for passing that along.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Even with the modern kitchen equipment, I still like to use my hand-beater occasionally. But, as you know, beating anything in a bowl will cause splashes.

I solved this problem by taking a plastic bowl cover large enough to fit over the bowl, making a hole in the center, and inserting the beater. The elastic around the edge of the cover will keep it in place and you can beat away with no more splashes.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A short cut to clean and really gleaming crystal chandeliers and crystal candlesticks with prisms (usually so time - consuming to clean), is to unhook each piece and put them carefully in the automatic dishwasher in the basket where the table silver goes. I've tried this and will never wash prisms any other way.

MRS. S. J. GOLDBERG.

Or, wrap teardrop pieces carefully in nylon net and place in the dishwasher. This will prevent the prisms bouncing out of the basket or rubbing against each other and scratching or chipping.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I hope I'm not too late in answering about shrunken draperies.

A few months ago a friend gave me four pair of draperies which she could not use because they had shrunk and were too short for her windows. I made cafe curtains out of them and when my friend saw them she said she wished she had thought of that idea. But I'm glad she didn't!

Dear Heloise: I always felt it was a waste to throw out small pieces of soap. I made a pocket of a thin sponge by folding it over, sewed it with a needle and thread around two sides (use a square or oblong sponge), and slipped small pieces of soap into the pocket.

It is a handy bath size and always easy to use and get a grip on. We never have to hunt for soap in our tub.

MARTHA P. TIGNOR.

DEAR HELOISE: When preparing hamburger balls or patties, I find it much easier to first make a roll of the meat.

I open up the wrapping paper the hamburger comes in, and with the meat inside, mold it to the desired width. Then I slice it into individual portions.

There is very little additional shaping necessary.

RO ANN.

DEAR HELOISE: Mothers and homemakers will enjoy this helpful hint when making divinity candy for home, or for candy sales at bazaars, etc. . . .

Chief Orders Tight Rein On 'Hot-Rodding

Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today he has ordered officers to crack down on "hot-rod" drivers who disturb quiet neighborhoods with screeching tires and loud exhausts.

The chief said the action was prompted by a series of complaints — many coming from the same two neighborhoods. He said the householders' complaints have been thickest from the 1000 block on Dresden Ave. and the 2800 block on St. Clair Ave.

"The residents complaint of being disturbed by loud exhausts and screeching tires of 'hot-rod' drivers," the chief said. "There is no need for any driver to start his car at such a rapid pace that he 'burns rubber' on the pavement and creates a loud noise."

"Officers have been instructed to crack down on these violators," the chief said. "Such driving tactics are dangerous as well as disturbing to the people who have to watch them or listen to them."

Chief Radeschi said complaints also have been received on noisy exhausts on small motorcycles. The officers have been tild to include the noisy motorcycles in their tightened enforcement, he added.
